It's all over now

Has kidney transplant

Romulus girl, 11, wins over disease

By BOB AMEEN
ANP Staff Writer

At the tender age of 11 years, Elaine Rishel has probably had more sickness and suffering than most adults will experience in a lifetime.

Elaine, who will be a fifth grader at Merriman Elementary School this coming fall, was accidentally hit in the head by a piece of wood thrown by a playmate three years ago in June of 1975.

Her face turned black and blue, she had 14 stitches taken to close a gash in her head, and two years after it happened, doctors were still removing splinters of wood from her head.

That was only the beginning of Elaine's troubles. In September of 1975, she began to have traces of blood in her urine. Then, she started to feel sickly.

Medication prescribed by a doctor made her feel worse. In fact, it almost killed her, according to her mother, Marie. Her blood pressure soared and her temperature rose to 105-107 degrees.

On the advice of another doctor, her parents took her to Mott's Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor. There, doctors discovered she had a rare form of nephritis called glomerulonephritis, which signalled renal failure. In laymen terms, her kidneys were threatening to stop functioning.

In November of 1977, doctors performed a one-hour operation at Mott's, sewing her arteries and to a kidney machine that kept her alive by purifying her blood.

Elaine was kept on the kidney machine for seven months. Her mother said she became so depressed that she didn't care if she lived or died.

"Elaine couldn't understand why it had to be her who was sick and who had to suffer while others were well," she said.

Doctors finally decided to try a kidney transplant operation, with the operation scheduled to be performed at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor, world renowned for its medical facilities and services.

Fortunately, Elaine had an identical twin sister, Lorraine, so the natural course would have been to transplant a kidney from her body to minimize rejection of the organ by Elaine's body.

Unfortunately, a specialist on the case refused to use Lorraine, saying she was too young for such major surgery.

It was decided to use a kidney from the body of a person who had died or been killed recently. Doctors told Elaine's parents that in the event they were able to come across a kidney, they would be unable to reveal the name of the dead donor.

By the grace of God, doctors were informed of a kidney that would be suitable for Elaine. Her mother said that all she knows about the whole procedure is that it took seven hours to fly the organ from its starting point to Ann Arbor.

After a three and a half hour operation and 24 hours in the recovery room, the now 11-year-old Romulus girl was equipped with an organ that would give her a chance to be a normal human being again.

But, to add to all of her problems and suffering, Elaine contracted a bad case of head lice while in the hospital.

Despite all of her troubles, Elaine kept up her school work as well as possible with tutoring her mother emphasized. Although she missed a total of 118 days of school last year, she was promoted to the fifth grade and will join her former schoolmates this fall at Merriman Elementary.

The three years of sickness did take its toll on her, however. Whether due to the medication, radiation therapy or her rare form of kidney disease, her growth was stunted slightly. She is a little smaller and a little lighter than her twin sister, her mother said.

When she was really ill, Elaine was unable to eat. Now, she has a good appetite, but has to remain on a low sodium diet.

So rare is her form of nephritis, her mother explained, that Elaine is listed as one of only five persons who have been diagnosed as having the disease. She is listed in the Guinness Book of Records, about the only distinction that can be associated with her sickness.

Marie said she could not have got through it all had it not been for Elaine's special education teacher, Miss Lynn Paris.

"Without Miss Paris, I would have been at a standstill. She came to the hospital to help Elaine with her studies and I know she helped her psychologically," her mother declared.

The cost of Elaine's treatment — operations, doctor bills, medication, tests, hospital stay, etc. — proved staggering. A computer foul-up didn't help any because it could not be determined who would pay and how much. To this day, it hasn't been completely resolved, her mother said.

Recently, Medicare informed the Rishels that it would begin paying 80 percent of the medical costs; the remaining 20 percent would be paid by Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

But — Elaine's father, Bob, has been on strike for two weeks from Traffic Transport and Engineering in Romulus and the Blue Cross-Blue Shield payments have stopped. That leaves that part of the burden of Elaine's medical costs on their shoulders.

Marie said doctors now say that it is possible that the blow suffered by Elaine to her head three years ago may have been in some way responsible for her renal failure.

Clerk sounds warning

Does Huron Twp. face annexation?

A warning that Huron Township could face annexation by two neighboring cities was sounded by Sandra Rhodes, township clerk.

Her prediction came in the wake of a defeat of Proposition C at last week's primary election that would have transformed the township into a chartered governmental unit.

"By operating as a chartered township, Huron would have better protection against annexation by our neighboring communities," she contended.

She said she believes township voters, who defeated the charter proposal 1,055-338, were not aware of what could happen should Space World, a proposed $40 million theme park, be built southeast of the New Boston community.

"Flat Rock could annex Huron Township all the way to the I-275 expressway," she declared.

Also, she pointed out, the city of Romulus could annex the northern section of the township where the two communities are contiguous. (Areas which are proposed for annexation must physically touch the governmental unit wanting the merger. Approval must come from the State Boundary Commission.

Under Michigan laws, cities may annex townships, but townships cannot annex other townships or cities, the clerk explained.

Mrs. Rhodes said she believes that Huron residents are blinded by the fact that chartered townships can levy up to five mills for operating millage, without a vote of its inhabitants.

"I firmly believe the benefits to be derived from being a chartered township outweigh the disadvantages," she asserted.

Her statements were echoed recently by Van Buren Township Sup. Pat Cullin. Previously a proponent of non-charter township status for Van Buren, her feelings have changed following two approved annexations of the township to the city of Belleville.

Currently, Van Buren is asking for a rehearing by the State Boundary Commission on the two annexations, both of which have been ordered voided by the courts.

Three other propositions on last week's ballot faced voters, with two also going down to defeat and one receiving approval.

A quarter-mill renewal called Proposition A, for the Huron Fire Department got voter approval by a 837-678 margin.

Proposition B, which called for an additional .4 mill for the fire department, failed by a 874-586 vote.

Proposition D, which would form a special assessment police department district and permit a levy of up to three mills, also was soundly rejected 1,078-423.

Melnick resigns from help center

Leonard Melnick, director of the Romulus Help and Job Placement Center for the past five years, has resigned his position effective Friday, Aug. 18, 1978.

Melnick will remain in this area as executive director of a new mental health facility to be operated by the Southwest Wayne County Mental Health Association, Inc.

Melnick was hired by the Romulus Help Center in 1973 to implement the drug abuse treatment and counseling services. Since that time the center has also provided services to senior citizens, operated a job placement service and assisted in the administration of the city of Romulus' loan and grant housing rehabilitation program.

In announcing his resignation, Melnick expressed appreciation for the support the Help Center has received from local citizens, the city of Romulus and state and local government groups.

He particularly praised the fine work of his staff at the Help Center. "The Help Center has had the opportunity to provide much needed services in this area."

"We have a fine staff, and my hope is that the new director will continue our work of the past five years."

Melnick's replacement has not yet been hired.

Huron pupils get pat on back

Students and the staff of Huron Jr. High School have received a pat on the back for "significant improvement" in reading and mathematics from the highest educational authority in the state — John W. Porter, superintendent of public instruction.

Congratulations on the school's efforts in the two fields were contained in a letter dated July 31, 1978, from Porter to Supt.

Bron Antcliff.

A portion of Porter's letter stated: "Based on 1978 data, your students have shown significant improvement in the mastery of the reading and mathematics objectives measured by the Michigan Educational Assessment Program."

Porter said attention is usually focused on the lack of achievement rather than on gains and that recognition of the latter should be made.

His letter concluded: "For this reason, I am asking that you accept our congratulations on the accomplishment of your students, and that you extend these congratulations to members of your staff and citizens of your community."

Clerk loses nomination bid

Incumbent Clerk Sandra Rhodes failed to win the Democrat nomination for her office, being defeated by her arch rival, Mrs. Mary Lou Carey, former clerk from 1971-76, in the primary election last week in Huron Township.

The clerk said that about 1,500 voters cast ballots representing about 30 percent of the total registered voters in the township.

Mrs. Rhodes was edged 766 to 566 by Mrs. Carey for the Democrat nomination for clerk, with the lone Republican, Mrs. Shirley Burgess, capturing 147 votes to win her party's nomination.

The fall election will see Mrs. Carey and Mrs. Burgess square off in the race for clerk.

Mrs. Carey was appointed clerk in 1971, was re-elected in 1972 and re-elected again in 1974. She was defeated by Mrs. Rhodes in the 1976 election.

Mrs. Rhodes, who formerly worked as deputy clerk from 1972-74, under Mrs. Carey, attributed her defeat to the "light turnout."

The race for the supervisor nomination amounted to the party faithful routinely casting votes for their party's candidates, both of whom were unopposed. Democrat George Moore, with 774 votes, and Republican Roy Raker, 199 votes, will vie for the supervisor slot in the November election.

The contest for the treasurer nomination was won by incumbent Richard Sullivan, who fought off his Democrat opponent, Mrs. Alice McGrew, to win 699-576. No Republicans ran for their party's nomination.

Five Democrats battled for the two trustee nomination open, with Fred Ashby, 694 votes, and John Puskar, 559, present supervisor, emerging as the winners.

Puskar, who decided to run for trustee rather than re-election as supervisor, escaped by the skin of his teeth when fellow Democrat Ron Tabor tallied 552 votes, only seven less than Puskar.

Also running for the Democrat trustee nomination were Sidney Dent, 367 votes, and Don Radabaugh, 178.

Mrs. Romaine Stoker, the only

Republican, won her party's nomination for the trustee position with 154 votes. She will oppose Ashby and Puskar in the fall election.

In the race for the two constable nominations, no Republicans ran and Democrats William Manny, 656 votes, and DeVere Willard, 648, won their party's nomination.

Tax reformer

Douglas B. Roberts, deputy director of the Office of Tax Analysis of the Michigan Office of Management and Budget, last week explained to Romulus residents the two tax reform amendments which will appear on the November ballot.

Roberts said he personally favored the Headlee Amendment over the Tisch version, but added he "could live with whichever proposal wins the voters' approval in November". (Photo by Jay Young.)

Wayne Commons becomes a reality

An architect's conception of 'Wayne Commons'

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

A $2½ million shopping center which features a Kroger Supermarket, a drug store, beauty shoppe and Chinese restaurant as major tenants, will open in Wayne on Sept. 18.

The shopping center, named "Wayne Commons", covers approximately 10 acres of land and is located at 36111 Michigan Ave. East, corner of Williams Street. It is adjacent to the Unger Warehouse facilities and near the Wayne-Westland Community School District's Board of Education offices.

Robert Sosnick, the developer of "Wayne Commons", is pleased with the progress of the shopping center and pointed out "that there are only eight sites, ranging from 1,000 to 6,000 square feet remaining to be occupied and leased in the shopping center. We have tenants for the remaining footage."

The architect of the shopping center is "Architects and Planners, Inc."

To accommodate patrons, there will be 500 parking spaces available. Eli Master, representing the developer and a vice-president of the developing company, explained why his company decided to develop the 10 acres.

"We sincerely feel that there is a dire need for a market of this kind in Wayne and the area.

"We are delighted at the response we have received from the people of Wayne," Master added, "and are anxiously awaiting the opening of the shopping complex."

Master said he would like to encourage "other local merchants to become a part of this exciting development."

"And if merchants want to obtain any information about leasing the remaining space, they can contact me."

Master can be reached at 362-2000.

Do you know CPR ABCs?

Everyone knows their ABC's. Or do they? Fern Vining and a small group of dedicated nurses and instructors at Wayne County General Hospital hope that at least one member of each household in the county will take the time to learn their ABCs as they apply to CPR (Cardio-Pulmonary-Resuscitation) because it can save a life.

In fact they believe in the life-saving method so completely that they are voluntarily spending their free time at the hospital teaching the procedures to anyone interested enough to attend the 3-hour classes. "If enough people indicate a desire to learn CPR," Nurse Vining said, "we'll schedule classes every three or four months and for the most progressive students we'll include BCLS (Basic Cardiac Life Support)."

CPR is a method of life support that was devised by English and American doctors to replace the less successful methods used previously to revive victims of heart attack, drowning, electric shock, choking, etc.

"You've seen people use the old method," Vining said, "where they put the victim on their stomach and pump on the ribs, or, more recently, where the victim's arms are alternately pulled and the rib cage depressed.

"By using the new system, one or two persons working as a team can revive most victims by learning and using the ABCs of CPR."

"A" stands for airway," she continued, "the first thing you do is check to see if the airway (throat) is plugged. 'B' means to check for breathing and 'C' for circulation of the blood.

"By using a combination of pressure on the chest and breathing air into the victim's mouth, a person's life can be sustained until taken to the hospital."

The students "are given two hours of classroom instruction and visual aid and another hour trying to revive 'Annie' and her sisters."

"Annie" is a special life-size dummy that responds to CPR manipulation and allows the student a chance to perfect the method before coming face-to-face with the real thing at some future date.

"We like to tell the class that not very victim survives, but the odds are in the victim's favor, if a person trained in CPR can start the procedure within four or five minutes after arrest (when the victim has stopped breathing). Beyond that period of time," Vining said, "brain damage generally is not repairable."

Some of the most important mistakes made by ill-trained persons is failure to find the proper spot on the chest to exert pressure and, allowing fingers to slip while applying pressure, which can result in breaking the victim's ribs, she added.

"You must remember that to restore breathing, from 100 to 115 pounds of pressure must be exerted on the victim's chest exactly 2 inches above the breast bone (sternum) that's why we don't recommend persons under 14 years of age take the course...they don't weight enough," she added.

Assisting Vining are nurses Sharon Amosen and Nancy Roggero and CPR instructors William Small and Elaine Saneske.

For those interested in learning CPR, which is free to the public, contact Nurse Vining at the Wayne County General Hospital at CR- 4-3000.

Cruise of lake planned

An "Evening Nature Cruise" will be given aboard the Island Queen excursion boat on Kent Lake at Kensington Metropark near Milford on Aug. 28 at 8 p.m.

Many kinds of wildlife are more active towards dusk than in the heat of the day. Join naturalist Bob Hotaling for a relaxing 1-hour cruise of wildlife observation, as well as discussion of human and natural history of the area.

There is a charge of $1 per person. Advanced registration is required, as are vehicle entry permits.

For information or registration contact the nature center at Kensington Metropark at 685-1561 (Milford).

Winner again

Tim Wood demonstrates the form which won him first place Friday in the downhill slalom and free style events in the fourth annual skateboard contest sponsored at city hall by the Romulus Recreation Department. Tim's younger brother, Ted, finished third in the obstacle course event. Both Woods participated in the older group category. First place in the older group obstacle event went to Rick Villalba. First place winners in the youth group were: Charles Worsham, downhill slalom; Howie Pyles, obstacle course and free style. (Photo by Jay Young.)

Already designated

Huron will get liquor license from new census

An additional liquor license will be made available to Huron Township after the state of Michigan last week certified results of a 1977 census showing the population at 8,491 inhabitants.

Clerk Sandra Rhodes said the township finally heard from the Michigan Department of Commerce on certification of the census after losing census results when it moved to new quarters in Lansing.

Evidently, she said, the census results were found and the certification of the township's population, although somewhat late, was finally approved.

Several months ago, the Huron Township Board voted to give the license, if one was forthcoming, to Garrett Calhoun, who indicated he wanted to open a restaurant lounge on Waltz Road south of New Boston, the clerk said.

Calhoun's name and four others is on file with the state Liquor Control Commission, she said. Final determination as to who gets the liquor license, however, is up to the township board, she added.

The 1977 census was taken to determine whether Huron had another liquor license coming and to see if more federal revenue sharing funds could be obtained by the township on the basis of increased population, the clerk explained.

To be honored

Romulus Mayor William M. Oakley will be honored on the occasion of his birthday with a cocktail party and dance Saturday, Aug. 19, at the Hilton Inn, 31500 Wick Rd., Romulus, beginning at 8 p.m. Tickets are $15 per person. For information, call Ron Hopson at 941-6854, or Nita Laine at 941-1077.

Girl beats disease

Probably though, no one will ever know what started her illness.

Today, now that Elaine has made a startling recovery and appears healthy and cheerful once more, the Rishels are thankful they have their daughter back and that she has the opportunity to live a normal life.

Although they don't know how they are going to pay their portion of their daughter's medical costs, the bills are of secondary importance.

Elaine has become so "normal" that her mother was prompted to say, "She's beginning to act like any other ornery 11-year-old!"

In brief--

Drug meeting slated

Drugs, vandalism and other community problems will be discussed at a special public meeting sponsored by We the People at 7:30 p.m. in the community room of the Romulus City Hall Thursday, Aug. 24. Speaking to the audience will be Sgt. Chris Roach of the Ypsilanti Police Department. For additional information, call Dick Campbell at 941-0218.

Seniors needed for lunch

More participants in the daily hot lunch program are being sought by the Senior Citizen Nutrition Program of New Boston.

For the sum of only 50 cents, senior citizens in the area can get together, enjoy a hot meal and converse Monday through Friday at the New Boston School on Huron River Drive.

By attending the hot lunch program, seniors can learn about forthcoming activities planned at the school during the winter months.

Students ask lunch leave

Last month the Romulus Board of Education received a letter signed by 358 Romulus High School students requesting board approval to leave school grounds during the lunch hour.

A portion of the letter read: "We are one of a few districts restricted in this manner."

The letter concluded: "Independence and the responsibility that goes with it should be part of our education as young adults."

The board has taken the matter under advisement.

Willson named superintendent

Detroit Diesel promotes two men

Detroit Diesel Allison Division of General Motors Corporation has named two men to top manufacturing posts at the division's diesel operations in Romulus according to C. J. Karrer, manager.

William E. Willson becomes general superintendent of manufacturing at the division's Romulus plant. David A. Lanius, formerly works manager at Detroit Diesel Allison do Brasil, replaces Willson as general superintendent of machining at the DDA Redford complex.

Willson, a native of Flint, first joined General Motors as an apprentice tool and die maker with the Pontiac Motor Division in Pontiac.

After receiving his journeyman status, he became a co-op student at General Motors Institute in Flint, sponsored by the former Detroit Diesel Engine Division, in 1949.

Following his graduation with a bachelor's degree in industrial engineering in 1954, Willson joined the division as a junior process engineer.

He received a series of promotions, then was named superintendent of manufacturing services in 1965. In 1970, the same year Detroit Diesel Engine Division merged with Allison Division to form the Detroit Diesel Allison Division, he became superintendent of manufacturing. Two years later, Willson was promoted to general superintendent of machining at Redford.

Lanius, also a graduate of GMI, is a native of Hillsdale. He joined the division as a co-op student in 1948 but had his schooling interrupted when he was reactivated by the U. S. Navy in 1950. He returned to GMI in 1952 and, following his graduation with an industrial engineering degree, became a junior process engineer with Detroit Diesel.

A series of promotions with the division led to his appointment as coordinator of diesel project machinery and tooling for a new manufacturing plant in Sao Paulo, Brazil, in 1973. He became works manager of the plant in 1975, the position he held until his return to Detroit this summer.

Seek 'Watch' program to fight vandalism

As a result of the recent rise in burglaries occurring in the Meadows subdivision in Romulus, several concerned citizens have met with Mayor William Oakley and members of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

The result is a proposal to introduce a unique, highly-successful crime prevention program called "Neighborhood Watch" to the Meadow's neighborhood.

A crucial first meeting called to explain the details of the program will be held on Wednesday, Aug. 30, 1978 at 7:30 p.m. in the Hale Creek School auditorium.

The national director of the program will be flying in from the nation's capital to personally present details, distribute literature, answer questions and organize a neighborhood watch in your area.

Concerned citizens are urged to attend the meeting.

'Vial of Life' program asset to all area senior citizens

"Vial of Life" will become a household word throughout Wayne County on Saturday, Oct. 7, according to an ambitious plan mapped by the Wayne County Vial of Life Task Force.

The task force, consisting of citizens and representatives of municipalities and the county government, has set that date for door-to-door distribution of Vial of Life kits.

The plan calls for recruitment of thousands of volunteers to distribute vials of life to some 800,000 households.

The Vial of Life program involves keeping medical information forms for each family member in a marked vial (small plastic pill bottle) in the refrigerator. Vial-of-Life stickers are placed on the refrigerator door and the household's front door to alert personnel responding to a medical emergency.

Families are also encouraged to carry the medical information forms in the glove compartment of the family car and on their persons.

The goal of county-wide distribution was adopted at the first meeting of the task force, attended by some 25 representatives of municipalities, public agencies and interested citizen groups Aug. 2 at the City-County Building.

"The response at the Task Force meeting was so enthusiastic that the members wanted to set a firm date immediately so that the nation's largest Vial-of-Life distribution can be completed before the inclement weather of fall and winter sets in," explained County Commissioner Erv Steiner (R-Grosse Pointe), the Task Force chairman.

"We are going to hold our next meeting at 9 a.m., Tuesday, Aug. 22, in the City-County Building. All interested municipalities and citizen groups — from schools and scout troops to service groups and senior citizens are urged to attend."

There have been two reports of vial of life uses since EMMTTA and State Rep. George Montgomery cooperated in distributing vials to 20,000 households in the 5th State Representative District in northwest Detroit in June.

One involved a 36-year-old man whose car crashed, apparently after he began to lose consciousness due to a hypoglycemia condition. Because he had the vial of life sticker on his rear car window and the medical information form in his glove compartment, the EMS crew was able to begin treatment at the scene, and the doctors knew exactly what to do when he arrived at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital.

In the other case, a heart patient began to have chest pains. Her husband took the family vial of life with him in driving her to Plymouth

General Hospital. The hospital staff said the information was vital in assessing the damage and beginning treatment immediately.

Information on the vial of life program is available by phoning the Wayne County Department of Health at 729-2211, Extension 200 or (toll free from Detroit zone) 274-2800, Extension 200 or the Detroit-Wayne County Emergency Medical Services Council at 224-0860.

Program offers diploma

Lincoln Consolidated Schools, near Ypsilanti, is offering an opportunity to complete schooling for a high school diploma or to obtain a vocational skill under a program of free adult education being conducted cooperatively by the Lincoln Schools and the Huron School District.

Classes are being scheduled nightly from 6:30 until 10 o'clock and are arranged to allow individuals to work at their own levels, regardless of previous educational experience.

Most students will have family and adult responsibilities in addition to their school work; most will work an eight-hour day plus their studies. The instructional staff will make every effort to assist students in these circumstances to realize their goal to a diploma or specific occupational skill.

The courses offered are designed to meet the widest possible range of educational needs from fundamental English to electrical wiring to sewing.

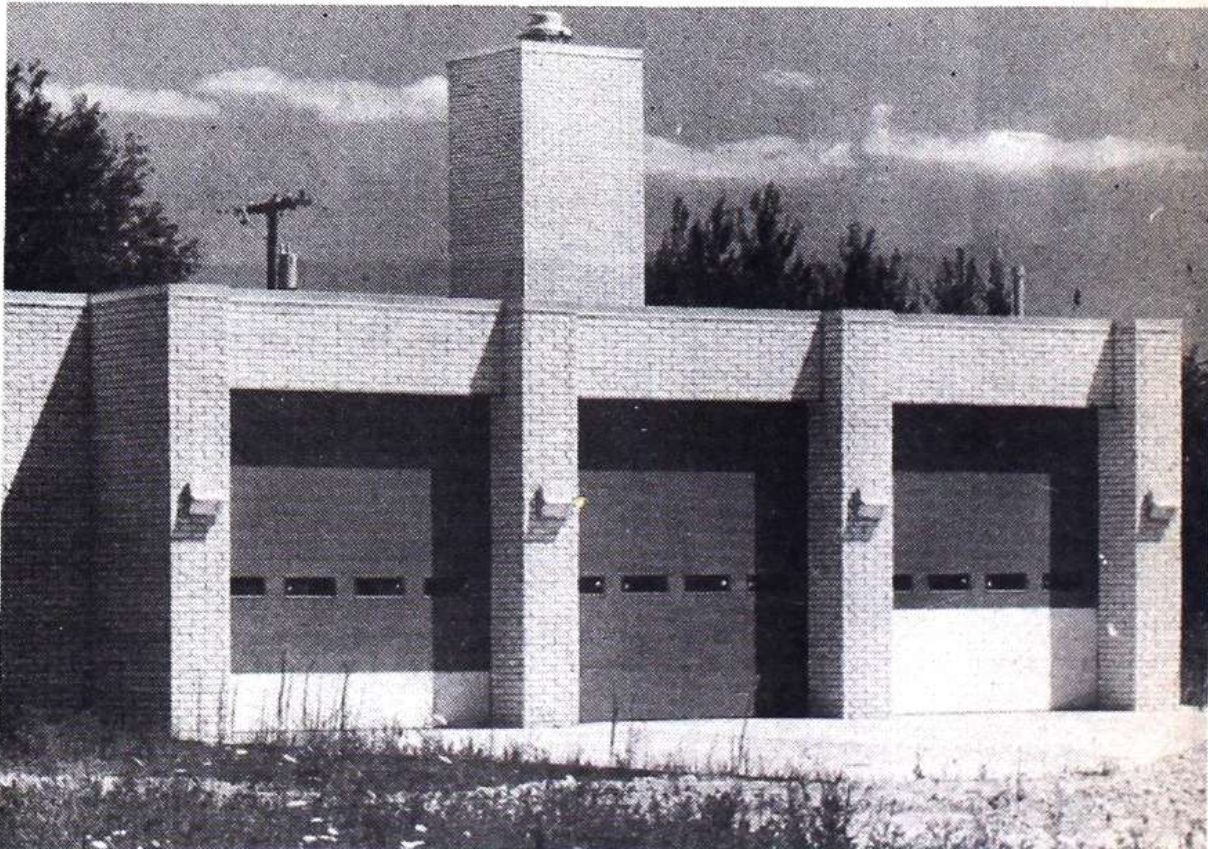

In adult continuing education, most students may receive extra credit toward high school graduation because of military experience, job experience, and standardized testing within the program itself.

Registration began yesterday and will continue through the month of September. Classes will be filled on a first come, first serve basis. Registration will take place at Lincoln High School, 7425 Willis Rd., in the adult education office.

Classes will begin on Monday, Sept. 11 and will be held at Lincoln High School and Sumpter Elementary School.

For further information call Lincoln High School adult education office, 482-8710, and ask for Ken Appleby.

VB fire station completed

Van Buren Fire Station No. 3, located a half mile east of I-275 on Tyler Road, is now completed and awaiting activation sometime next year, according to Clerk Doreen Craven. Built with part of a $234,000 local public works grant, the station will house two high pressure volume pumper trucks. Plans call for an aerial type fire truck in near future. Fire station is unique in that fire equipment can drive through one door and out the opposite entrance and has drying tower that can be used to dry hoses. (Photo by Tom Greenwood, ANP staff photographer.)

According to Mahalak

Legislature acts on state inheritance tax

Senior citizens' taxes and utility costs, have all been under consideration by the State Legislature this year, but one major concern has been the state inheritance tax, which can be a financial blow to a surviving spouse, according to State Rep. Edward Mahalak (D-38th District).

According to the Romulus Democrat, a bill which moved through the legislature and was just recently signed into law will take much of the sting out of the inheritance tax. It will exempt from the state inheritance tax the money a surviving spouse receives from a survivor's benefit plan, annuity retirement plan or pension, thus ending the former lump sum payment to the state.

Federal taxes will still have to be paid yearly, and state income taxes will be due, if the benefits are more than $7,500 a year.

Many couples purchase survivor benefit insurance and annuities, or receive benefits from retirement plans and pensions, all of which are designed to guarantee that surviving spouses will receive income after the passing of their husbands or wives, Mahalak explained. Since the federal government taxes proceeds from a survivor benefit plan as yearly income, it seemed unfair to also make the surviving spouse pay an additional lump sum inheritance tax on the entire benefit, he added.

"Survivor benefit plans do not keep pace with galloping inflation, let alone income taxes compounded by inheritance taxes," he said. "While the new law will cost the state some money in tax revenues, this is far outweighed by the need to protect small pensions from excessive taxation."

"It will clearly help the people who most need help in these inflationary times — the widow or widower who must depend upon a fixed income from a survivor benefit plan."

There had been an existing law allowing those senior citizens eligible for state tax credits to defer the payment of their summer property taxes until the following winter when they receive their rebate checks, Mahalak continued.

It had been the intent of the Legislature, in passing that law, that there be no interest or penalties on the delayed tax payments. However, it has been reported that some local units of government are assessing penalties and interest on the deferred payments, he said.

In order to clarify that situation, the legislature passed a follow-up bill, recently signed into law, so that there be no penalties or interest attached to the deferred summer taxes, if they are paid by Feb. 15. If they are not paid by that due date, there could be penalties or interest, but only from Feb. 15 on.

Rising home heating costs are a particular burden for retirees, who often have trouble fitting rising utility expenses into their limited fixed incomes, and the legislature late last year approved a system of grants to assist senior citizens and others with low incomes in paying for their home heating costs for the winter. This was an emergency program for last winter only.

The deadline for applying for these grants, which were paid directly to the home heating supplier, was April 30. Unfortunately, many eligible persons did not apply for the assistance, which could be as much as $200. The legislature, therefore, took action to extend the deadline to August 31, according to Mahalak.

Information on these grants can be obtained from local offices of the Department of Social Services, he added.

Meanwhile, the House has approved a bill to establish a permanent and less complex system of utility cost assistance for those with household incomes of less than $10,000 a year. The plan would be especially beneficial for retirees.

The bill, which is under Senate consideration, would use a state tax rebate system to provide for utility cost relief. Patterned after the existing property tax credit program, the amount of the utility aid would be based on income and the number of dependents in the household, Mahalak said.

A person would be able to apply for the rebate when filing the state income tax form, or on a special form. Senior citizens and disabled persons would get larger grants than other eligible for the program because of their larger tax exemptions.

Ford seeks ed department

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) has introduced legislation to create a Department of Education.

In contrast to other Department of Education proposals now under consideration, the Ford bill would transfer the veterans' education programs to the new department.

Ford is chairman of the House Subcommittee on Postsecondary Education.

The 15th District Michigan Congressman emphasized that a Department of Education must be "comprehensive", if it is to succeed in establishing a high priority for education in the federal government and in reducing the current fragmentation of federal education programs.

While praising the administration for its initiative in this area, Congressman Ford said: "Any Department of Education worthy of the name must include the veterans programs which last year provided $3 billion in educational benefits to some

1.6 million veterans and others."

Citing comprehensive oversight hearings held by his subcommittee last summer, Congressman Ford added: "Implementation of veterans' education programs by the Veterans Administration demonstrates a gross lack of sensitivity and understanding of the needs of the student-veteran and of the nature of postsecondary education and institutions."

Other highlights of the Ford bill are establishment of a separate office for rehabilitation and education of the handicapped; the transfer of migrant education programs to the Department of Education from the Department of Labor; creation of a National Council on Education Research, Development and Dissemination; and emphasis on involvement of the nonpublic educational sector in the development and implementation of departmental policy.

Cpl. Ault reports to Camp Pendleton

Marine Cpl. Mark K. Ault, whose wife Sherry is the daughter of Glen and Ruth Kurtzell of Finzel Street, Carleton, has reported for duty with the 1st Marine Division, Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif. He joined the Marine Corps in January 1976.

Also in the armed forces: Kenneth R. Choate, 19, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Choate of Walnut Drive, Romulus, has entered the U.S. Air Force through the Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP).

According to S. Sgt. Jim Cole, Air Force recruiter in Garden City, Choate's entry into the DEP serves two purposes. First, it allows the Air Force to schedule an opening for him to attend basic training and to be assigned to a job skill or area. Secondly, DEP enables Choate, a 1977 graduate of Romulus Senior High School to wrap up his personal affairs before leaving home.

Choate will enter the regular Air Force on Aug. 30. Following graduation from the six-week basic training course at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., he will receive technical training in the mechanical aptitude area and will be assigned to an Air Force duty station.

Navy Seaman Appren. Ernest E. Schaffer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Schaffer of Whipple Road, Carleton, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill. During the eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in his studies were seamanship, close-order drill, Naval history and first aid. He joined the Navy in April 1978.

The Garden Doctor says...

This week the Garden Doctor talks about:

Q: Our tomatoes have a dark spot on the bottom of them that eventually rots. It's even on the green tomatoes. What can we do?

A: You can only keep the soil evenly moist, sidedress with a high phosphate fertilizer, and avoid excessive nitrogen applications. This condition is called blossom end-rot. It occurs when the plant is not taking up enough calcium, though plenty calcium probably is in the soil.

Q: Our Rubylace locust is dropping its leaves recently. It has done well for three years. What might be wrong?

A: Lay a clean white sheet of paper on a hard surface and sharply rap a twig, with leaves attached, against the sheet. Look for tiny particles walking around on that sheet. Since they suck juices from the leaves, the leaves begin to appear pale or covered with powder after a time and eventually fall to the ground. Treat spider mites by spraying with Kelthane and repeat after 10 days.

Q: Should a lawn be fertilized during August?

A: Yes, it should if you are using the new fertilizer recommendation. The new recommendation says to fertilize during June, July, and August but to put on only half the usual rate. Water the fertilizer into the soil immediately after application. If you are fertilizing according to the old schedule of monthly applications of one pound of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet and did put this on only July, the August application can be skipped.

Q: Some beetles are coming into our house.

They are olive-green with a black stripe on each wing. They are about the size of lady bugs and they fly. Are they harmful?

A: You have described the elm leaf beetle. These are not harmful to the home or its inhabitants, but they can be a nuisance. They might wander indoors from now until cold weather, because they're looking for an overwintering spot. Vacuum up those that come in. Close up any crevices where they're going access. Diazinon sprayed around the outside window frames and wherever clusters of them are found outdoors might further discourage their wandering inside.

Editorial opinions

Debate invited on tax propositions

In following the recent wave of tax reform proposals on the scene, we at Associated Newspapers have concluded that with the filing of the 'Tisch' petitions with the Secretary of State's office, there has been a definite rush by local and state politicians to join in support of the more moderate tax proposal submitted by Taxpayers United for Tax Limitation of Southfield.

While that movement toward support of moderate tax reform by elected officials, represents only their attempt to cut the best deal they can, we welcome their late but hearty support.

To understand the reason for the apparent surge in lawmaker's support for the Taxpayers United proposal the same lawmakers who just a few short months ago opposed the plan, it is necessary to first look at the alternatives.

With almost everyone, other than public officials and those who derive their income from our taxes, now expressing support for some form of tax reform state-wide, it is almost certain that at least one of the current four proposals scheduled to be submitted to the voters in November will be approved.

Since that is the situation as we see it, most elected officials are now in the process of evaluating their positions relative to the citizen mandated tax reform proposals which will appear in the fall's election balloting.

Since their process for the selection of the best tax proposal to support has little to do with each proposals citizen support, the rule-of-thumb applied by most of the recent supporters of the Taxpayers United proposal, appears to have been, "Which of the plans will cost me the least over the long run."

In Westland, one elected official who strongly opposed the Taxpayers United plan, now supports it. Simply because the more drastic 'Tisch' proposal appears to have garnered the necessary voter support to have become a threat.

In Romulus, an official supporting the concept of tax reform from the first, now feels that tax reform is alright only so long as it doesn't affect him.

In the effort of twisting arms further during this election year, Taxpayers United recently mailed a questionnaire to all members of the Michigan State Senate and House. The question asked was quite simple: Do you, or do you not, support the tax reform measure outlined by Taxpayers United.

The response to that mailing was impressive.

With 'maybe' and 'could be' eliminated from the question of whether the lawmaker supported the proposal, 22 of the 37 Senators responded in favor of the measure and 52 of the 110 Representatives expressed their support. Prior to the filing of the 'Tisch' petitions, only a handful of our elected leaders had expressed any support for any tax reform proposal.

This latest example of our elected leaders following rather than providing the leadership he or she was elected to provide, is indicative of the inherent difficulty lawmakers have had in handling the tough questions.

It is interesting to note that the voters of western Wayne county have not been too well represented by leaders who have expressed support for even the moderate Taxpayers United proposal.

Thomas Brown, of Westland and Canton, has been a long supporter of tax reform legislation. Beginning in 1976, Brown supported the tax limitation measure called Proposition C. He is again in the lead in supporting the Taxpayers United measure.

Robert Law, of Livonia and Westland, is a relative newcomer to the list of supporters of the tax limitation measure.

Gary M. Owen of Belleville, William Keith of Inkster and Garden City, Edward Mahalik of Romulus and Roy Smith of Plymouth are not supporting the Taxpayers United proposal.

In the State Senate, David J. Plawecki of Dearborn Heights is supporting the measure, and Senate Majority Leader William Faust is not.

In the interest of providing our readers with as much information as possible on the subject of tax reform, we invite the elected leaders of the communities we serve to debate the value of tax reform within the pages of our newspapers.

Since state finance is an extremely complex issue with ramifications beyond the readily apparent, such a discussion of the issue would go far toward informing the voters of western Wayne county of the benefits and pitfalls associated with tax reform.

Wayne County Fair worth your time

With this week's start of the annual 4-H Wayne County Fair, residents of Western Wayne County will once again be afforded the opportunity of taking part in one of the most successful events of its kind.

From tractor pulls to beauty pageants, the Fair offers everyone something to attract their fancy. Over the course of the six-day event, thousands of spectators will make the journey to the Belleville Fairgrounds, bringing with them the excitement promoters hope will make this year's Fair the biggest ever.

We at Associated Newspapers, publisher of the Belleville Enterprise, urge local support of the Fair. We feel that this type of event does much to promote community spirit and pride.

With the accent on youth, this year's Fair, like those before, will concentrate on the contribution that youngsters can make to the family and the world. In spite of the casual fun atmosphere that prevails during the event, it is serious business for the hundreds of the younger generation who will fiercely compete for the blue ribbons. But more importantly, the Fair will provide the motivation for further community involvement by the youth of this area.

We support the Fair and its goal of helping youth understand the contribution they might make.

We will see you there.

From your lawmakers

New legislation affects sportsmen

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK
State Representative
38th District

There have been items of interest in the Legislature for hunters, fishermen and boaters, including a crackdown on game law violators.

A new law increases penalties for major and repeated fishing violations.

It increases the maximum penalties for general fishing law violations from $100 to $250 and/or 90 days imprisonment. The use of explosives, poison or unauthorized nets to take game fish would carry a new maximum penalty of $500 and/or 90 days in jail.

In addition, there would be a three-year suspension of the fishing licenses of any one guilty of more than one fishing law violation in a 10 year-period. Exempted from the repeat offense penalty are certain minor violations.

By increasing the maximum penalties for serious fishing law violations, the new law underscores their importance, and by setting a new penalty for repeated violations, it should help to deter habitual violators.

Another new law is directed against the increasing practice of selling illegally killed game animals.

It sets a misdemeanor penalty of up to 90 days in jail and/or a fine of as much as $250 for selling illegally killed protected game animals or animal parts. In order to get at those who make a practice of killing and selling illegal game, the law makes repeat offenses subject to felony penalties.

The Department of Natural Resources reports an increasing number of convictions of the sale of illegally taken game animals and birds, often for repeated offenses.

State game laws have been carefully drafted to keep Michigan's game resources available to sportsmen without depleting these resources unwisely. Those who would deliberately upset the delicate natural balance maintained by wise management through commercial exploitation will now face much more serious penalties.

Most hunters and fishermen respect the rights of private property owners, but there are a few who do not. The Recreational Trespass Act of 1976 was enacted to regulate the recreational use of private property. It provides for an owner to post signs prohibiting trespass at visible points of entry.

That act was followed this year by a law which makes it a misdemeanor to remove or deface or destroy a "no trespassing" sign posted to keep recreational users off private property.

Until recently, yellow perch was the only game fish for which there was no daily limit in Michigan. This has created a problem in certain areas where people claiming to be fishing for sport take tremendous numbers of perch and sell them, often in other states.

A bill signed into law in July imposes a limit of 50 perch per day for sports fishermen.

This is a generous day's catch and a reasonable limit for those fishing for sport. It does, however, exclude the possibility of harvesting numbers of fish which approach commercial catches in the name of sport.

The Senate has under consideration a House-approved bill which would eliminate the cross-bow from the list of illegal hunting devices.

Although it is relatively expensive compared to most longbows, the crossbow could be an attractive weapon to many hunters, since it offers greater stability and requires relatively less instruction and practice to achieve skill.

The bill would allow persons with a hunting license or an archery club membership to carry a bow in a vehicle on route to hunting or shooting areas, if it is unslung, encased and in the truck or otherwise inaccessible from the interior of the vehicle. A crossbow would be required to have a stock of at least 25 inches.

A new law has closed a loophole in the Michigan Penal Code which allowed a person to carry a concealed and loaded antique firearm without a concealed weapons permit.

The new law still permits an antique firearm to be carried without a permit to a hunting or target shooting area or to an antique gun event, provided it is unloaded and carried in a wrapper or container in the trunk of a vehicle.

Another new law sets certain noise and speed restrictions for motorboats.

The legislation establishes a 55-mile-an-hour speed limit on individual inland bodies of water, with an interim 40-mile limit on waters for which local units of government have requested a reduction in the speed limit. The 55 mile-an-hour maximum would apply where no stricter speed limits have been imposed. It would not apply to the Great Lakes.

The law also limits speeds to slowest possible forward motion in near-shore areas, "slow-no wake" areas and within 100 feet of shore with water less than three feet deep.

The legislation requires motorboats to be equipped with a muffler, underwater exhaust or other modern noise reduction device in good working order. It requires boats to produce no more than 86 decibels of sound, measured at least 50 feet from the boat.

It is felt that the speed and noise emission levels set by law will make policing bodies of water much easier than the former administrative rules established by the Department of Natural Resources.

The House has approved and sent to the Senate a bill revising law regulating charter boats, requiring annual registrations by boat owners, annual licensing of pilots and yearly inspections by the Department of Natural Resources.

Council president congratulates merchant

To the Editor,

It is a fact that many Romulus merchants and business people have contributed much to the community in many various ways.

I commend them highly for their community involvement.

My congratulations to the "Old Downtown" Romulus merchants for the efforts put forth in the recent three day sidewalk sale. It is encouraging for Romulus to have our merchants making a cooperative endeavor to establish an event such as this, much like many other communities have done.

Besides the bargains offered shoppers from the local stores, various arts and crafts booths also participated in the event. A carnival ride was provided creating a festive atmosphere.

The sidewalk sale culminated with a street dance on Goddard Road Saturday night. My heartiest congratulations to the Romulus Athletic Club who sponsored this very successful dance.

It was pleasing to see so many people there, from the very young to the young-at-heart. It was a fun evening as well as being a fund raising event for little league football.

Civic activist talks about SEMTA

To the Editor:

In response to your editorial opinion on SEMTA, I can only say, after pushing for service to Romulus, to serve our senior citizens on fixed incomes, that unless SEMTA hears from the people seeking those services, (individuals), plans are now that it would take five years before SEMTA sees you and me.

Since I am now catching SEMTA in Wayne, I understand other peoples' problems. But we can perhaps expedite

Both the sidewalk sale and the street dance were well organized and well run.

Hopefully both of these events will continue and become larger and more successful each year.

Editor's Log

There's no one like 'Unc'

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

There exists in our family, the classic example of the Uncle who just can't do enough for the kids. It's not that the kids are hard-shed-cases mind you, it's just that Uncle Joe, affectionately referred to as 'Unc', is a great guy whose cross is his passion for doing things for others.

Now old 'Unc', has four boys of his own, two currently attending Michigan State University, one a graduate of that institution and still living at home and the fourth just finishing high school.

As a result of the necessity for transportation while his kids were working summers to pay for their education, 'Unc' bought and re-conditioned four vintage automobiles for their use.

One of those vehicles, during a rendezvous with a winter snow drift, had its oil pan punctured and subsequently suffered a broken connecting rod.

For the uninitiated, a 'thrown rod', in the vernacular of those auto mechanics, is roughly equivalent to, "It looks bad and will have to go into the shop," coming from the TV repairman or "I don't think you've used enough yeast in that bread," coming from grandma. While not fatal, at least indicative of the size of the bill forthcoming from the TV shop, or the painful impending re-match with the ball of dough that needs to be kneaded until satiny smooth.

Well, 'Unc' managed to retrieve the, now three-cylinder, car and parked it in front of the house.

It was about this time that son Dennis was beginning to talk about drivers training and the coveted license that he hoped would be shortly forthcoming.

During one of the family get-togethers, 'Unc', overheard the daily discussion of my 16-year-old's impending license to prowling the streets of the unsuspecting neighborhood.

Enough said?
Combine one exhausted automobile, one over-generous uncle, and one eager teenager, and you have one greasy mess in one's garage.

Guess which one's garage?

The thinking behind 'Unc's' donation of the car to son Dennis was that the effort of rebuilding the engine would provide a wealth of knowledge for the new driver, and if he understood just how much work it was to get the vehicle running, he would probably be much more careful driving.

Extremely good logic, but just a little more difficult to philosophically accept when it's your nose which is the recipient of dripping grease and oil.

Laying on my back, looking at the underside of the long stilled power plant, attempting to free a stubborn odd size bolt from the firm grasp of the exhaust manifold, the thought occurs to me that son Dennis is probably learning much more than I had anticipated he would.

While my bleeding knuckles attempt to fit themselves into a space far too small for them, my son is encouraging me on, and by this time the only clean hands in the garage belong to him.

Vowing to give 'Unc' a call just as soon as I finish the 30-minute job of cleaning my self up enough to take a shower, I realize that I've been here before.

It was on the occasion of my brother's bequest of a '29 A-Model Ford to me. Brother Jim was very good at destroying the machine, but very bad at putting it back together.

Following one of the major break-downs Jim decided he had had just about enough of the inconvenience of having no 'wheels' while I was re-building the car for him. So he gave the A-Model to me.

Shortly after, my dad appeared on the scene wondering when, if ever, he would be able to park his car in the garage that was now outfitted more like the corner service station.

I recall that it wasn't long before he was under the car looking up at the broken drive shaft, shouting orders for tools.

Working the grease out from under my finger nails, I realize that I have come full circle.

"Unc, I just wanted to call and thank you again for giving Dennis the car", I said. "It's amazing how much he has already learned about engines — and life."

My graduate!

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

The college campus was inundated with bright sunlight and laughing, excited young graduates whose green caps and gowns blended with the dense foliage and bright flowers.

It was graduation day. And for me it was a day of intense excitement, because the kid who always knew more than anyone, had finally persuaded the learned heads, that he was an apt recipient of a degree.

Watching from the tiered seat in the huge gymnasium, I kept trying to swallow the lump in my throat as my eyes traced the profile of this dearly beloved son. The same son who had made sure there was never a dull moment in his home from the day he first opened his eyes on this world and let out a whoop that startled even the doctor who was used to that kind of stuff.

How vulnerable he looks I thought as I watched his jaw quiver. And then he was striding across the platform, clasping the hand of the college president while a diploma was thrust into his other hand.

Memories surged through my head. Memories of a little boy who could make music come out of the electric toothbrush each time he fixed the radio.

The little boy standing so proud before his father in the middle of a newly landscaped lawn with one lone, drooping, wilted sunflower planted smack in the middle.

"It was free, Dad. He gave it to me FREE."

Memories of a little kid who saved us two hundred dollars by borrowing forty dollars from his uncle to buy rows and rows of blinking red and blue lawn lights.

"But Dad, I saved you two hundred dollars cause I got them on sale. They would've cost you a lot more."

Memories of opening the refrigerator one morning and finding an egg with a sad little face, complete with tears, and the words, "I was going to be a chicken."

And finally memories of an irate teacher saying that he was washing his hands of this little kid. "He even flunked his IQ test." And the kid's response, "Those dumb questions. I wouldn't waste my time on them!"

And now he was coming towards me. We walked outside, a big grin on his face, moving sedately enough, until we hit the sunlight.

"Wow," he yelled and threw himself at his younger brother. Up on his shoulder he leaped and the two went streaking across the campus, graduation cap waving in one hand and diploma in the other.

My graduate.

Common Cause

Special interest paralysis

By DAVID COHEN
President, Common Cause

Politicians fiddle, problems go unsolved, and taxpayers' tempers flare. More and more, our government is viewed by its citizens as being unable or unwilling to deal with crucial issues.

Today, special interests dominate our political system and these interests — usually focused on a single issue — pursue their own narrow agendas. Through the use of political money and hidden lobbying, they wield considerable clout with the Administration and Congress. In effect, they paralyze government and stop it from performing on behalf of its citizens. No single special interest alone is responsible or wants to create this paralysis, but when they have all acted, that's the result.

Nowhere is this effect clearer than in our inability to stop inflation. Each special interest — the dairy industry, airlines, highway builders, truckers, doctors, building trade union members, lawyers, and a cast of thousands — has a particular inflationary favor it wants from government. With their immense power, special interests get the rewards they seek, from invisible tax subsidies to government regulations which protect an economic interest.

To combat the heavy special interest influence, citizens must take an active role in framing the debate on the critical issues facing the nation. We have a responsibility to shape the alternatives and advocate the choices that will work. We cannot abandon the field to the special interests. Our challenge is to build support for systematic changes that will stop wasteful spending, unnecessary regulations, and unfair taxes.

If government is to perform on behalf of the people and work to solve problems rather than duck them, Congress has to act responsibly by taking the necessary steps to make government competent. Congress should:

Pass Sunset legislation to require Congress to discard outdated, inflexible, and wasteful government activities and permit room for new initiatives. Citizens are frustrated by the inability and unwillingness of Congress to end unfair taxes, and government programs and regulations which do not work and are no longer needed.

Reform the civil service to hold our civil servants to high standards of performance and protect those who blow the whistle on wrong-doers. The American public is entitled to a federal civil service that is both efficient and accountable, responsive and responsible.

Curb the two worst special interest abuses, political money and hidden lobbying. Enact Congressional campaign finance reform by enabling small contributions to be matched by the voluntary dollar tax check-off already used in the Presidential election. Enact lobby disclosure legislation to require the powerful lobbies to disclose how, what and on whom they're spending their money to influence the system.

A healthy political system requires citizens who know what's going on. Nobody can do it for us. After all, you don't have to be an expert to know you want competence from your government.

The noun occlusion comes from the Latin occlusus which, in the case of teeth, refers to bringing opposing surfaces into proper contact.

Malocclusion, then, is a condition where such proper contact does not occur between the teeth and there is a resultant adverse torque which may cause a premature loss of teeth.

According to Dr. Eichler, "While it's bad enough to have a situation in which there is reduced masticating efficiency and premature tooth loss, people must understand that certain physical problems can surface as the result of malocclusion."

He said that in the area where the mandible (the lower jaw) joins or articulates with the temporal bones (the area around the lower part of one's ears), a malocclusion can produce severe discomfort manifested as a clicking in the jaws, ringing in the ears, stuffiness in the ears, vertigo or equilibrium problems, and certain neuro-pressure disorders.

In the neuro-pressure area, Dr. Eichler cited the possibility of headache, backache, stiff neck and neckache, and similar muscle spasms in the neck and back.

"It must be made clear," he said, "that I'm not suggesting that the above-referenced problems will always occur from malocclusion. My point is that they have occurred in patients and have been eliminated once the occlusion of the teeth was properly aligned."

Malocclusions occur for many reasons. In the first instance, the defect may be hereditary: Mom had poorly aligned teeth, and so do the offspring.

A phenomenon known as post-natal pressure habits can also contribute to malocclusion. The doctor said he was able to identify events such as thumb sucking and tongue thrusting as two contraindicated post-natal habits. "When a parent notices a child beginning to develop these habits, it is incumbent upon that parent to take appropriate steps immediately to help the child break the habit."

"And there is something else parents should consider: bad habits may be the result of some other physical problem such as bad tonsils and adenoids."

"The human body is a complex system of specialized interfaces, and malfunction in one area can introduce unwanted conditions in another area."

Premature loss of deciduous (baby) teeth can also contribute to the development of malocclusion. Dr. Eichler said that this was one of the prime reasons dentists constantly urge parents to watch their children's teeth.

Lastly, if permanent teeth are removed, and not replaced by either permanent or removable devices, the person will in time suffer from malocclusion.

Dr. Eichler did say that sometimes, and this is a rare event, an improper restoration can be the root cause of malocclusion.

"When a dentist makes a restoration, say an amalgam inlay, he's dealing with very small tolerances. He may leave what we call a high spot on the restored tooth — and the patient may not initially notice that high spot.

"In time, however, the patient will know that something is not quite right. The patient should get back to his dentist to have the restoration corrected. I assure you, dentists are happy to take care of this situation."

Malocclusion with the attendant potential for other problems is a situation which can be readily managed in contemporary dentistry.

Dr. Eichler said that the most familiar technique was the use of orthodontia in which braces are applied to the teeth.

"It's strange," he said, "but too many people after reaching adulthood seem to adopt a fatalistic attitude toward braces because they think it's too late to correct their occlusion. That's just not consistent with what we know to be the facts."

I've had patients well into their 40's and early 50's whom I've helped with the use of braces. And I'm sure most other practitioners will tell you the same thing."

Another method of correcting a serious malocclusion is via orthopedic surgery performed by an oral surgeon.

This is a technique used when a bone, say the mandible, protrudes extensively. The oral surgeon, operating in a hospital, actually reduces the size of the bone by removing equalized sections on either side of the jaw.

Next week we plan to write more about orthodontia techniques and problems of malocclusion.

And Army Reserve promotion

High school drop-out collects 4 degrees

New Reserve officer

Army Reserve 1st Lt. Dale J. Crowe (right) discusses Army Reserve opportunities with a new recruit before giving him the oath of enlistment. Crowe, who lives near Belleville, recently received his Reserve officer's commission as a member of Headquarters, 300th Military Police Command (U.S. Army Reserve), headquartered in Livonia.

Army Reserve first lieutenant, senior law student, holder of four college degrees — including two master's degrees — college instructor, author, police officer, instrument-rated commercial pilot with 3,500 hours of flying time — not bad for a 32-year-old guy who dropped out of Detroit's public schools as a ninth grader.

That's the story of Dale J. Crowe, who recently received his Army Reserve officer's commission as a member of Headquarters, 300th Military Police Command (U.S. Army Reserve), in Livonia.

Crowe resides with his wife, Catherine and their 2-year-old daughter Rebecca on Willis Road near Belleville. He is a student at Detroit College of Law.

"I just finally decided I'd better get on the stick and make something of myself," Crowe said in explaining the turn-around in his life.

Crowe joined the Air Force as an enlisted supply specialist in 1963 and served until 1967. Then he worked for a couple of years as a laboratory technician for an auto manufacturer, followed by a couple of years as an assistant railroad signalman, department store salesman, manager of a pilot supply store and charter pilot.

In 1969 he moved into law enforcement, combining college study and full-time police work in a hectic four years that found him moving from one city to another in order to advance his education.

While working at three Florida police departments, he picked up an associate of science degree in criminal justice (from Broward Community College in Ft. Lauderdale, in 1971) and a bachelor of arts degree in law enforcement (from Florida Technological University in Orlando in 1972).

He then moved on to the Kentucky State Police and Eastern Kentucky University, where he added a master of science degree in criminal justice in 1973, thus bringing his three-year total to three college degrees — two of them with magna cum laude honors.

Next Crowe moved on to college instructing and writing articles on criminal justice. He worked as director and instructor of the criminal justice program at Madonna College in Livonia in 1973 and 1974.

Then he worked for two years as director and assistant professor in the criminal justice department at Siena Heights College in Adrian. He also studied at Siena, adding his fourth college degree — a master of arts degree in guidance and counseling — in 1976.

He also found time during this period to work as a Washtenaw County deputy sheriff and special program administrative assistant in the sheriff's department.

Besides his law studies and Army Reserve activities, Crowe works as a part-time law clerk and as a part-time policeman in Saline. He is now building a home in Saline.

He is a member of the law student divisions of both the American and Michigan State Bar Associations, a member of the Michigan Criminal Justice Educators Association and a former mission pilot with the Michigan Wing of the Civil Air Patrol.

Crowe is the aide-de-camp to the commander of 300th MP Command, which includes 27 units and more than 1,400 Army reservists in 13 cities of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Iowa.

Wartime missions of the command's units would include operation of prisoner-of-war camps and other military police functions.

The command's members hold down full-time civilian jobs, maintaining their military skills through once-a-month weekend drills and periodic training camps.

WCCC opens new center Aug. 24

With only one week to go before the Aug. 24 debut of its new master facility in Taylor, Wayne County Community College already is looking toward the future.

"We're naturally pleased and extremely excited to finally be here," said Dr. Julius R. Brown, regional director of WCCC's Downriver Center, concerning his recent move to the new facility from the college's field office on Eureka Road near Telegraph. "The type of support we've received in recent months since setting up operations in our Downriver quarters has been encouraging."

"The dream throughout that time has been to actually get into the regional center, and now that we're here, it's twice as exciting."

Of his multitude of Downriver contacts, along with those of his instructional services and recruitment staffs, Dr. Brown cited local municipal and educational leaders as among the most interested in the college's latest development.

"In a way we've been here a lot longer in spirit," he said, "given our previous and current experience with classes at our St. Patrick Center in Wyandotte and, of course, those held at Riverview High School and Kennedy in Taylor. Given this aspect, as well as our earliest overtures to the leaders and residents of the Downriver community who have expressed their educational needs to us, I feel we are coming back to them in a way which will insure their satisfaction."

The Downriver Regional Center, which opens its doors officially to students on Aug. 28, is located at 21000 Northline Road, Taylor, between I-75 and Telegraph. Construction on the 100-acre site, formerly one of Taylor's oldest operating farmsteads, proceeds "on target" with the construction goal set by the college's officials in their Facilities Master Plan, initiated in 1973.

"Our intention in developing the Downriver Regional Center has been to provide the service area of Wayne County with convenient and fully comprehensive educational facilities," said WCCC president Dr. Reginald Wilson, in a recent interview. "The Downriver slogan, 'How Far Will You Grow?' is both a statement and a challenge offered to the people of these diversified communities who want to further their educational needs."

"Our intention has always been to mirror the communities to whom we have made this commitment. That very thing is what we hope underlines the word 'community' in our name."

Special emphasis for the multi-million dollar center will be a concentration in programming for areas of vocational-technical training. Such programs as automotive service technology, diesel engine maintenance, machine shop technology, metallurgy, mechanical engineering and drafting are but a few of the new WCCC selections being readied for the August opening. To complement the ambitious roster of career-occupational curricula, specialized facilities at the Downriver Center will provide a variety of the most up-to-date laboratories, shops, technical equipment and student-practicum training services.

"The range of our programs has been designed to provide what the Downriver community has asked for," Dr. Brown added. "Not only will we excel in the realms of vocational-technical areas."

Further information concerning registration, federal programs, or the Downriver Center Launch Day activities can be obtained by calling 287-2760.

MUSICAL NOTES
by Doug Brown
The social advantages of being able to play a musical instrument are almost infinite. They start at home where family gatherings or parties can be given a special warm spirit with a little live music. Then they extend to school years where bands and orchestras are usually formed for both playing and socializing. After that, there are private groups that play for fun, profit or both, available in any community. When you play a musical instrument, not only do you get the pleasure of playing, but the pleasure of the company of fellow musicians.

Blooms featured in talk

"Summer Wildflowers" will be featured during a two-hour program to be held at the nature center of Kensington Metropark near Milford on Aug. 27 at 9 a.m.

Asters, goldenrods and other late blooming flowers give our fields their last flourish of color before the fall frosts. Join naturalist Dave Moilanen for a last look at our summer wildflowers and a discussion of some of their interesting characteristics. Indian usages, ecology and identification techniques will be covered.

Advance registration is required, as well as vehicle entry permits - annual; regular, $5, senior citizen, $1, or daily, $1.

For information or registration contact the nature center at Kensington Metropark at 685-1561 (Milford).

Boat book ready

Michigan is a great place to fish, but with more than 3,000 miles of Great Lakes coastline, 11,000 inland lakes, and more than 36,000 miles of rivers and streams, an angler may have trouble deciding where to drop a line. The 1978 Michigan Charter Boat-Inland Guides Directory can help solve the problem with its new addition of a list of the members of the Michigan Guide's Association and their areas of expertise as well as a list of the state's licensed charter boats.

An inland guide is familiar with the fish you'd like to catch, and knows where and how to land them. The guide's knowledge can become yours at a cost of $85-$100 a day, including equipment.

Those preferring to tackle the big lakes can hire a Great Lakes Charter Boat. The captains are licensed by the Coast Guard, which assures you safety and gives you time to concentrate on fishing rather than boating mechanics. Most charters require a minimum of four passengers and while costs vary, the usual charge is $35-$50 per person for a half day.

There's never been a better time to take full advantage of Michigan's spectacular fishing opportunities with either a Great Lakes charter boat or a specialized inland guide. The directory is free of charge, and available from the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce, P.O. Box 30226, Lansing 48909.

Anglers can phone for a free copy of the Michigan Charter Boat-Inland Guides Directory toll free, by dialing 800-292-2520 in Michigan (outside the Lansing area).

U.S. Coast Guard Academy accepts Class of 1983 cadet applications

The U.S. Coast Guard Academy is now accepting and processing applications for appointment as cadet in the U. S. Coast Guard Class of 1983.

Applications are being accepted from both men and women.

Appointments as Coast Guard Cadets are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional appointments or geographical quotas. Applications for appointment must be submitted to the Director of Admissions, U. S. Coast Guard Academy, prior to Dec. 15, 1978.

Candidates must arrange to participate in either the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing Assessment (ACT) prior to or including the Dec. 9, 1978 administration for the ACT and the Dec. 2, 1978 administration for the SAT.

The competition for appointment as cadet is based on the candidate's high school rank, performance on either the SAT or ACT, and leadership potential as demonstrated by participation in high school extracurricular activities, community affairs and/or part-time employment. Most successful candidates rank in the top quarter of their high school class and demonstrate proficiency in both the mathematical and applied science fields.

To qualify for the competition, an applicant must be unmarried at the time of appointment, have no legal obligations resulting from a prior marriage, and must have reached the age of 17 but not 22 by July 1, 1979. All applicants must be assured of high school graduation by June 30, 1979. Applicants must have completed three units in English, and three in mathematics to include algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents, and must fulfill basic physical and moral requirements.

Coast Guard cadets obtain an excellent undergraduate education at no personal expense. In addition, they receive pay and allowances fully adequate to fulfill their ordinary living expenses. The constantly updated Academy curriculum offers nine majors, which include electrical, civil, ocean and marine engineering; marine, mathematical and physical sciences; management and government.

Graduates of the academy are awarded a bachelor of science degree and are commissioned as ensigns in the U. S. Coast Guard.

Applications and additional information may be obtained by writing to the Director of Admissions, U. S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn. 06320.

How can I make known My funeral preferences?

Usually your preferences can best be made known by your pre-planning some or all of the funeral service with a funeral director. If you feel reluctant to give "instructions" to your family, you might make a list of preferences and suggestions covering your wishes. We have simple forms which will help guide you as you fill them out. After completing the forms which entail no obligation on your part, then advise your family about your preferences and where you will keep the Pre-Plan Form. We find people have a greater ease of mind once this is done, just as after filling a will or setting up an insurance program. It takes a load off the family later on and it makes sure your preferences will be respected. There are many choices and options in pre-planning. You would be well-advised to discuss them with your funeral director. We will be glad to explain your options in detail. To help you reach an informed decision, we can also give you some reading material for your study. Stop by or phone for your free copy.

'A rare quality happening'

YWCA's fall lineup: Exciting and new

The YWCA of Western Wayne County has developed an exciting new program concept for fall. An array of inimitable personalities have been assembled to present a rare quality "happening" in Western Wayne County.

Bouyed by responses to YWCA Town Hall '77 and '78, the YWCA believes area residents want and appreciate quality events close at hand, and on that premise has selected choice samplings for fall for a test marketing.

Registration begins Sept. 5, with activities getting under way the week of Sept. 25.

Tuesday Ladies Day Out features "Gourmet Entertaining Made Easy". Peggy Watson, graduate of Cordon Bleu and Michael James Cooking schools, will demonstrate how to gain rave reviews on your menu and still be out of the kitchen to enjoy guests.

Christmas Workshop days include three days of Macrame with Paula Boase. Paula's bag of decorations includes 12 snowflake ornaments, a delightful Santa head, a Christmas tree perfect for the front door and even an elegant evening purse.

Macelline Nowicki takes the drudgery out of creating a pine cone wreath with the quick new method. After a 4-hour workshop with Swedish Strawcraft expert, Mildred Webb, you will take home a completed assortment of straw ornaments for tree decorating.

On the more practical side a support group for Slim-Trim Weight Control, combines shape up exercises, jogging, principles of yoga and a look at revised eating habits under the direction of Kathy Kish.

"Thrilling Thursday" is a new treat. Each day begins with a continental breakfast or appropriate fare for the program of the day.

On Oct. 5 at 9:30 a.m. WDIV-TV's Carol Duval will bring her "trash" as she calls it, her sparkling personality and her know-how to give clever new craft ideas for Christmas.

The Wine and Cheese Experience is scheduled for Oct. 26 at 1:30 p.m. Walter Rosenberg, wine connoisseur par excellence, will share the secrets of selecting good wines without great expense. Rosenberg, owner of Wine Shops Inc. in the General Motors Building, guarantees to build your confidence as you sample wine, cheese and crackers.

Meatless Menus with Flare on Oct. 12 at 9:30 a.m. brings Natalie Weaver, Northville Vegetarian. She'll demonstrate and you'll taste a balanced menu that's "good for you". You'll remember her husband, Dr. Weaver of Wayne University Medical School, renowned for his smoking clinics.

Child care for preschoolers whose mothers are enrolled in Tuesday workshops or Thrilling Thursdays, is available by reservation at $1 per 2-hour session.

Wednesday is Travel Day. On Oct. 18 travel by bus for a Pre-Christmas Trip to Frankenmuth. Luncheon at Zehnders, shopping at Bronner's and specialty shops make for a pleasant day out. The $10 cost includes lunch and round-trip transportation.

The Nov. 15 journey to Meadow Brook Hall includes a 2-hour guided tour of the magnificent 100-room Tudor mansion. Enjoy luncheon in the elegantly appointed dining room. This trip and luncheon is $10.

Wednesday afternoon and evening Microwave Cooking illustrates the full range of possibilities from simple to gourmet, with home economist Pat Berry of Vincent McCollum's Micro Place.

Tuesday afternoon 5-week Job Skills Clinic gives an indepth approach to the employment world. Specialists will cover skills assessment resumes, job search, the interview and assertiveness.

Two unique evening classes are "Passages" taught by Barbara Kent, counselor and psychotherapist, and "Divorce" by Elizabeth Burch, attorney at law, and Ms. Kent. "Passages" is a 6-week personal growth workshop for women to recognize and deal with the changes that are constant in life. "Divorce", for men and women contemplating divorce, will find this advance knowledge informative to their legal, financial rights and psychological adjustments as they pass from a married to a single role.

In addition to the four preschool nurseries operated by the "Y", several "specials" for tots are planned.

"Creative Movement" is an exciting approach, including rhythm, body images, exploring space, coordination and abstract symbols. Joan Cusmano, an accomplished dance instructor, worked in England with Ann Hutchinson, author of several books on dance notation, a system by Laban. The 6-week class is available Tuesday mornings and afternoons.

"Creating Together" is a mother-tot art experiment, working creatively with varied art media. Moms learn how to continue the process at home. Classes are scheduled for Thursday afternoons. Tumbling for preschoolers and early elementary children is offered Saturday morning.

No one would take an office job without asking: "How many hours a day will I work?" "What skills must I have?" It would make sense to know what to expect of the "job" of parenting. Six-week parenting classes have been scheduled for traditional parents, single parents and the blended family (his, hers, ours). Sessions are scheduled for the Y building, Canton and Taylor.

The fine arts are represented in the evening with Acrylic Painting and Three-D Media, including work with clay, plaster and paper mache. Instructor Lealan Anderson Swanson, has a wide instructor's background on campuses of University of Missouri and Rachurst College and currently is a humanities instructor at Wayne State University. She makes history and art an outstanding educational event.

Antique Reproduction Dolls by Jeannette Sanders offers a unique opportunity in five sessions to create from nothing your own heirloom doll, valued at $50 upon completion.

A 10-week evening Beginning Bridge class by Isabel Smith will deal with point count, bidding and no trump contracts.

Evening tennis, yoga and disco dance offer the finest instruction at modest fees. Swimming classes from mother-tot through basic rescue and water safety are taught Tuesday evening and Saturday afternoons at Greenfield Village.

Basic adult membership for one year is $6 and for youth $3.

For full information on these or many other special events and activities call the YWCA of Western Wayne County at 561-4110. The Y is located at 26279 Michigan Avenue, between Beech Daly and John Daly.

Fall at the YWCA is an experience you won't want to miss.

Wheat germ omelet for two

As outdoor activities pick up in the summer, people spend less time planning, cooking and eating meals. Wheat germ is a great aid in preparing quick but nourishing meals. It is a convenience food and comes ready to use in vacuum packed jars. Wheat germ is a top value food nutritionally. A quarter cup serving of wheat germ - just right for breakfast - provides 15 percent of the RDA of protein necessary for building and maintaining muscle tissue. It's also a good source of the B complex vitamins, vitamin E and minerals. This unique combination of nutrients makes wheat germ one of the most invigorating natural foods you can eat. No wonder wheat germ is known as a beautiful food.

Wheat germ fashioned into a deluxe omelet makes a healthful meal for two. It's ideal to whip up a for a quick supper or brunch from ingredients you're apt to keep on hand. Generously garnished with fresh mushrooms and tomatoes, this light yet satisfying entree has great appeal for warm weather dining.

Instructions are given for cooking the omelet by microwave and by conventional methods. Actual microwaving time totals 12½ minutes. While the omelet rests you'll have time to microwave the mushroom sauce. During the resting period the omelet will continue to cook with the heat stored within the omelet. The conventional method calls for baking the puffy omelet in the oven. However you cook it, this is an easy recipe and can be prepared and served in less than half an hour. If you wish, accompany the garnished omelet with extra yogurt and muffins.

Eggs are always the basic ingredient for omelets but it is wheat germ and your choice of yogurt or sour cream that make this omelet so outstanding in flavor.

SAVORY WHEAT GERM OMELET (Microwave Method)

Microwave Time: 14½ minutes

- 3 eggs, separated
- 1 (8-ounce) carton plain yogurt or dairy sour cream
- one-third cup vacuum packed wheat germ, regular
- 3 tablespoons minced parsley
- ¾ teaspoon rosemary leaves, crushed
- ½ teaspoon salt

- 1½ teaspoons butter
- Sauteed Mushrooms
- Yogurt, tomato wedges, parsley sprigs

Mix egg yolk with yogurt, wheat germ, parsley, rosemary and salt. Beat egg whites until very stiff peaks form. Fold into egg yolk mixture. Place butter in 9-inch glass pie plate. Cook with high power in microwave oven 30 seconds or until melted. Spread butter over bottom of dish. Pour in egg mixture. Cook with medium high power in microwave oven 6 minutes. Turn dish halfway around. Cook 6 minutes longer or until set in center. Let rest 3 to 5 minutes. Loosen omelet on edges and bottom with rubber spatula. Carefully slide omelet halfway from pie plate onto warm serving plate. Tip pie plate to fold remaining half over first half on plate. Sautéed Mushrooms on top. Garnish with additional yogurt, tomato wedges and parsley sprigs. Makes 2 generous servings.

SAUTEED MUSHROOMS: Combine ¼ pound sliced mushrooms with 1 tablespoon butter and 1 teaspoon minced parsley in small glass bowl. Cook uncovered with full power in microwave oven 2 minutes.

SAVORY WHEAT GERM OMELET (Conventional Method)

- 3 eggs, separated
  - 1 (8-ounce) carton plain yogurt or dairy sour cream
  - one-third cup vacuum packed wheat germ, regular
  - 3 tablespoons minced parsley
  - ¾ teaspoon rosemary leaves, crushed
  - ½ teaspoon salt
  - Sauteed Mushrooms
  - Yogurt, tomato wedges, parsley sprigs
- Stir together egg yolks, yogurt, wheat germ, parsley, rosemary and salt. Beat egg whites until very stiff peaks form. Fold into egg yolk mixture. Turn into generously oiled 9-inch oven proof skillet.
- Bake in 350 degrees oven 15 to 18 minutes or until set. Loosen edges and bottom of omelet with spatula. Tip pan and fold omelet in half. Invert onto warm serving platter. Top with Sautéed Mushrooms. Garnish with additional yogurt, tomatoes and parsley. Makes 2 generous servings.
- SAUTEED MUSHROOMS: Sauté ¼ pound sliced mushrooms in 1 tablespoon butter over high heat, stirring occasionally, 3 minutes. Toss with 1 teaspoon minced parsley.

Freysinger-Parker marry

Clawson Methodist Church setting for July wedding

A week-long honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania followed the July 15 marriage of Terry Parker and Robert Freysinger of Belleville. On their return, the newlyweds took up residence at 1568 C. Spartan Village in East Lansing.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Parker of 444 Park Dr., Clawson, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Freysinger of 45275 Sunrise Lane, Belleville.

The Rev. H. Glenn and The Rev. John Powers presided at the double ring rite at Clawson United Methodist Church.

For the six o'clock ceremony, the altar was appointed with three arrangements of pink roses and baby's breath. Guitarist Mark Post accompanied Bryan Bird and Penny Landrum as they sang "The Wedding Song."

For her wedding day Terry selected an empire-waisted gown designed with a Venice lace bodice with long sleeves and a high colonial neckline. The chiffon demi-bell skirt, which drifted into a cathedral train, was accented with flounced hemline comprised of three rows of lace.

Her long, 2-tiered veil which was edged with matching Venice lace, was styled and made by her mother. Pink roses and baby's breath, arranged in cascade fashion, completed her bridal ensemble.

Rainbow shades were chosen for the quintet of bridesmaids who preceded the bride up the white-carpeted aisle. The maid of honor, Sue Stanford of Clawson, donned a soft green qiana gown with a high-rise waistline, cap sleeves and V-neckline.

Identically dressed in peach, blue, orchid and yellow, were Beverly Freysinger of Belleville, sister of the bridegroom; Lynn Daley of Clawson; Angie Kishmaul of Troy, and Cathy Eidt of Sebewaing, cousin of the bride.

All five carried white fans embellished with fresh flowers to match their dresses.

Six-year-old Kristin Daley was flowergirl in a pink dotted swiss frock edged with lace. The little nosegay she held was comprised of pink roses, daisies and baby's breath. John Freysinger, the 6-year-old nephew of the bridegroom, carried the role of ringbearer.

Brian Bird of Rochester was asked to serve as best man. Others on the esquire side were Rodney Parker of Troy, brother of the bride; Mark Post of Grand Rapids, and Ed and Rick Freysinger, brothers of the bridegroom from Belleville.

At the San Marino Club in Troy where the reception was held, Mrs. Parker greeted friends in a peacock blue chiffon gown which was complimented by a wrist corsage of white sweetheart roses. Mrs. Freysinger wore for her son's wedding a 2-piece gown of dusty rose with a gardenia corsage on her wrist.

A 1976 graduate of Clawson High School, the new Mrs. Freysinger works as a legal secretary in Lansing. Her husband graduated from Lahser High in Birmingham in 1976 and is currently in his junior year at Michigan State University. He also is employed parttime at University United Methodist Church.

The bridegroom's parents played host at the rehearsal dinner which was held at the Harbour House in Clawson.

Engagements announced

BERGMOOSER - PARKER

A wedding in the summer of 1979 is being planned by Kathy Lynn Bergmooser and James Darryl Parker, both of Romulus. The young couple have reserved St. Stephen Catholic Church in New Boston for their July 21 altar date.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bergmooser of 38830 Barth Rd., Romulus, are parents of the bride-elect who is a 1977 graduate of Romulus High School. She is employed by the Romulus Community Schools and works as secretary to the assistant principal at North Junior High School.

Her fiance, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Parker of 16215 Brandt, Romulus, is a 1976 alumnus of Romulus High School currently employed by Cadillac Motor Car Division in Detroit.

MISS BERGMOOSER

SCOTT - VAN DALEN

The engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Tammie Lyn Scott, and David Lewis Van Dalen is announced by Mrs. Agnes Scott of 47300 Harris Rd., Belleville.

A 1978 graduate of Belleville High School, Miss Scott is making plans for a Sept. 23 ceremony at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in New Boston.

The prospective bridegroom attended Belleville High School and is now working at Hydramatic Division of General Motors in Ypsilanti. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Van Dalen of 91 Sunshine Blvd., New Port Richey, Fla.

Pick potatoes for slimming summer face

"Summertime, and the livin' is easy," croons Gershwin's song "Summertime" in "Porgy and Bess." That's just how it should be.

This is the time to discover the convenience and low calorie advantages of potatoes. No doubt potatoes already are popular with your family, but anyone who is conscious of calories, especially during the summer, may shy away from them because of their "fattening" image. Tell your family not to fret, though. Potatoes actually are a real boon to those intent on staying slim. The potato offers a lot of appetite satisfaction and a good helping of nutrition, for about the same number of calories as an apple or pear the same size.

Potatoes are easy to prepare, too, in many different and delicious ways. Bake them in the oven or roast them, wrapped in foil, in the coals of your barbecue. Boil them in big batches to serve cold potato salad. Try whole boiled potatoes cold, too, with sliced meats and cold fried chicken. And, don't forget to take advantage of all the convenient frozen and dehydrated potato products that are so quick and easy to prepare deliciously.

Potato Slim-Pickin Chicken is a light and low calorie dish that requires little time to prepare. Instant potatoes are used to speed up preparation time and beat the heat in the kitchen. The seasoned potatoes are nested on chicken breasts and quickly baked. Just serve a vegetable relish tray and fruit salad and that's all there is to it.

POTATO SLIM-PICKIN CHICKEN

Instant potato flakes for 4 servings
Nonfat milk
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 whole chicken breasts, halved
Onion salt
Pepper
1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese
Paprika

Prepare mashed potatoes as package directs, except substitute nonfat milk for whole milk. Stir in parsley. Set aside. Remove skin from breasts. Season to taste with onion salt and pepper. Arrange, bone side up, on foil-lined baking pan. Spoon potato mixture on top, dividing evenly. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and paprika. Bake in pre-heated 400 degree oven for 30 minutes. Serve at once.

Makes four servings, about 226 calories each.

Hallie Caldwell, 81, enjoys reunion with family, relatives

The family of Mrs. Hallie Caldwell held a reunion picnic Sunday, July 30, with relatives arriving from Rockwood, Taylor, Dearborn, Belleville and Romulus.

Mrs. Caldwell, 81, was surrounded by her three daughters, Shirley Farrugia, Edith Keller and Inez Hawley, their husbands and children. A total of 14 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren were present.

The get-together was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Keller, owners of the Real Fram Bakery on Haggerty Road near Belleville.

Former Romulus residents arriving from out of state were Mr. and Mrs. G.R. Hawley of Flat Top, W.Va. and Mrs. Rita O'Brien and daughter, Nancy, of Tifton, Ga.

Co-op nursery, now accepting applications

Carousel Co-op Nursery celebrated the last day of school by holding its annual picnic at Lower Huron Metro Park. It was a relaxing and fun-filled day for mothers and children alike.

The final field trip of the year was to Detroit Metro Airport.

Carousel is a non-profit, non-discriminatory organization now accepting applications for the 1978-79 school year for 3-4 year olds for half-day sessions, two days a week at $13 a month.

Morning or afternoon classes are as follows: Monday-Wednesday, 9:15 to 11:30 a.m.; Monday-Wednesday, 12:30 to 2:45 p.m.; Tuesday-Thursday, 9:15 to 11:30 a.m. and Tuesday-Thursday, 12:30 to 2:45 p.m.

For further information contact Doris Engebretsen, membership chairman, at 461-9042.

Jeffrey Beck has a sister,

Amy Eileen is the name chosen by Todd and Mary Anna Beck for their second child who was born July 27 at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti.

Sharing their home at 1236 Holmes Rd., Ypsilanti, Amy made her debut at 6:21 p.m., weighed 8 lbs.-2 ozs. and measured 20 inches.

She is the little sister of Jeffrey Paul Beck, who's 3-years-old, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hughie Sole and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Beck, all of Belleville. Adding Amy to their family trees are her great-grandparents, Mrs. Katherine Beck of Maple City and Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Millhouse of West Virginia.

It's a boy—finally!

It's a boy! And for Sheila and Martin Soehren of Ypsilanti it's been occasion for celebration since the arrival of their son marks the first male birth in 24 years on her side of the family and the first in 15 for his clan.

Born Aug. 3 at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti, the new heir tipped the scales at 7 lbs.-13 ozs. His 21-inch length puts him well on the way to matching his dad's 6'5" stature.

The Soehrens, who reside at 5967 Middleview, welcomed their son at 6:24 p.m. and titled him Kyle Martin.

He is the first grandchild of Henriette and Albert Metcalf of Harris Road, Belleville, and the first grandson of Evelyn and Richard Soehren of Royal Oak. The proud great-grandmother is Mrs. Margaret Eldred of Owosso.

Catherine on ballot for Aug. 8

Election Day, 1978 was more than a primary for James and Priscilla Nair of 2987 Roundtree, Ypsilanti. The sunny, warm August 8 day marked the arrival of their first child, a baby girl, who made her debut at Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

The fact that her mother is a political science major at Eastern Michigan University is also apropos to the occasion.

Titled "Catherine Ann", the infant was born at 11:34 a.m. and had her weight recorded at 9 lbs.-7 ozs. and her length at 21-inches.

Her very proud grandparents include a Belleville couple, Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Kress of Farm Road and Mrs. Shirley Nair of Northville.

Great-grandparent honors are being shared by Mr. and Mrs. Warren A. Wood of Farmington Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nair and Mrs. Anna Kress, all of Detroit, and Mrs. Sydney Miller of Holland, Mich.

BPW meets poolside for August session

Fourteen members and three guests met in the pool house at Alice Atwell's home on Denton Road for the August meeting of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW).

Because of rain, plans to combine the meeting with a swim party were dropped. One of the guests was Verguel Smith who had served as the second president of the BPW.

The group enjoyed a potluck dinner before the meeting which included a report by Helen White on a very successful sidewalk sale. Plans were made for a meeting to arrange the 1978-79 program and arrangements to begin preparations for the BPW's participation in the October community blood bank were discussed.

Irene Christie, president, and Mildred Artley gave reports on their activities at the National Convention of Business and Professional Women in Puerto Rico. Bonnie Pavlat also attended the convention.

Any woman interested in attending a BPW meeting is welcome to contact a member to arrange for a reservation.

Foursome's travels cover some 7,000 miles

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Memering and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Talaga, all of Clarence Street, have returned from a 7,000 mile tour. Motoring to Ontario and across Canada to Saskatchewan, they saw the Canadian Rockies and later Glacier National Park in Montana.

The foursome drove onto Portland, Ore. where they visited relatives then continued on to the Grand Tetons, Yellowstone National Park and Mt. Rushmore.

Their return was made via Minneapolis, Minn., across Wisconsin to the Upper Peninsula and then home to good old Belleville. The two couples were gone over three weeks and while in the U.P. they visited Bellevilles, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Amerman in Paradise.

On Saturday, Aug. 5, Mrs. Muriel Smith of Liberty Street attended the funeral of Alvin Tomlin Jr., the brother of Mrs. Cecil Benjamin, at the Fowlerville Methodist Church.

Larry Eichold of Lenmore Drive has returned home from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. William Chubb of Taylor were visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. Mary Mumford of Fret Road and her Aug. 3 guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Kaiser, friends from Ft. Meyers, Fla.

Lynne and Lois Hamilton, their daughter Lisa, and her special friend enjoyed a recent weekend at their cottage on Lake Missaukee at Lake City.

Mayor and Mrs. Justin Emerson of Madelon Street were in Marquette and Iron River for a week-long visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fulton are now living in Carol Springs, Fla. having sold and moved from, their home on Willis Road last week.

Mrs. Malcolm McNutt of Smith Road, Romulus, entertained at a noon luncheon Aug. 3 honoring the birthday of Mrs. Ruth Summers of Dearborn Heights. Those present included Mrs. Muriel Smith of Belleville and Mrs. Gerald Staffeld, Mrs. Richard Zeman and Mrs. Margaret Staffeld, all of Romulus.

Mrs. Myrtle Kreie of Belleville returned last week from a delightful visit with Bob and Betty Lou Kreie in Ogunquit, Maine. Mrs. Kreie was away for three weeks and especially enjoyed seeing her grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harris of Belleville Road and Mr. and Mrs. Lou Robon of Savage Road recently returned from the former's cottage at Lake City having enjoyed a time of relaxing.

guests. Attending from the Sumpter area were the Pete Korgals, Frances Korgal, the Jim Schultz family, the Henry Golkas and the Frankie Korgal family.

Party favorites from our readers

In the "potpourri" column some few weeks back we sent out an S.O.S. to two members of the Home Arts Club for the recipes they had used in preparing for their stint as March hostesses.

Rhoda Chappo called us last week and we ran her "Lemon Chooz" bars and also two marvelous zucchini additions. This week we heard from Fran Jobe whose refreshing punch was served that evening along with her "Pecan Pie Surprise Bars" and Rhoda's lemony goodies.

The punch, she says, is a recipe belonging to still another Home Arts Clubber, Sally Jones, so she's getting a little credit here, too.

PARTY PUNCH

- |                              |                     |
|------------------------------|---------------------|
| 1 46-oz. can pineapple juice | 12 cups water       |
| 2 46-oz. cans orange juice   | 4 cups sugar        |
| 3 6-oz. cans frozen lemonade | 3-4 quarts Vernor's |

Combine juices and lemonade. Add sugar and water which were mixed together well. At the very last (just before serving) add the Vernor's. Of course, chill thoroughly.

PECAN PIE SURPRISE BARS

- |   |                      |
|---|----------------------|
| 1 pkg. yellow cake mix with two-thirds cup reserved | 1 egg                |
| 1/2 cup oleo, melted                                | 1 cup chopped pecans |

| two-thirds cup reserved cake mix   | 1 teaspoon vanilla |
| 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed | 3 eggs             |
| 1 1/2 cups dark corn syrup         |                    |

Combine all ingredients, beat at medium speed for 1 to 2 minutes. Pur filling over crust, sprinkle with chopped pecans. Bake 30 to 35 minutes until set at 375 degrees. Makes 36 bars.

Debbie Williams and Pat Priebe of Belleville returned home Aug. 7 from a week's visit to Long Beach, Calif. While there they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Santa and also visited Knott's Berry Farm and Disneyland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Welt with their daughters, Roberta and Denise, and son Dean, of Willis Road enjoyed a week in Louisville, Ky. where they attended the Supreme Assembly.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Miller of Garden City had the pleasure of taking Elmer's mother, Mrs. Norman Miller of Second Street, and his aunt, Mrs. Martha Allen of Russellville, Ark. out to dinner Aug. 5.

After dining at the Tin Lizzie, the group motored to Dearborn and called on Mrs. Louise Behmlander; then to Dearborn Heights to visit Mr. and Mrs. William Fleishans.

Word was received this past week from Wes and Donna Doane, former Liberty Street residents, that they are now living in Dunedin, Fla. and enjoying everything about Florida living.

John and Ginny Dunzycan and their two daughters arrived from Florida for a 2-weeks visit with friends and relatives. While here they were houseguests of Walter and Clara Dunayczan at their new home at Lake Columbia and were guests of honor at a party attended by some 80

You're not going to believe this opening item cause I still can't get over the irony of it. The coincidence of having written last week about no response to my complaint on a duplicate order of commemorative Christmas spoons and the unexpected — a response.

This paper hadn't even seen ink when, lo and behold, I received a refund check in the mail for the $15.80 I'd been missing for the past eight months. The timing was just a bit unreal and makes me wonder if I suddenly have the powers of ESP (or the occult?)

Not only the spoon article but a week earlier I'd griped about the roadways not being clipped this summer when, two days before the paper was published there appeared a strange little orange WCRB tractor on Haggerty road. Wee-erd!

If you've noticed the tri-colored banners draped across the front of St. Anthony's Church and over the entrance to St. Stephen's, you may have wondered what they are all about and perhaps correctly concluded they had something to do with the recent death of Pope Paul VI.

Like the flags which fly at half-staff when a national figure of prominence dies, the banners signify a period of mourning by Catholics throughout the world. The yellow and white of the papal flag with the heavy black symbol of death tell the message that "the Pope is dead." The bunting will be displayed during the 9-day mourning period which will follow the Pope's funeral.

The two recipes I put "feelers" out for a couple weeks ago are printed elsewhere on the Suburban Living pages. Be sure to clip out the Party Punch and Pecan Pie Surprise Bars which can be a welcome addition to any party you might be planning. Thank you, Mrs. J.

Having been fairly adept in the spelling department over the years, it always amazes me that I practically ALWAYS have to look up the same simple words. Among the little gems that throw me are: apparel — fuchsia — yoke (yeah, YOKE, whenever I am describing a bridal gown) — lavender — wield — hors d'oeuvres — diagonal — sandals. They have been relegated to a list I keep taped on the pull-out board in my desk.

Two that no longer belong there, that I've downpat, are calendar and broccoli. (And I'll flip if we goof on the typesetting and proofing of these two sticklers.) With calendar I told myself there are two Aprils in calendar (taking care of that "is it an 'A' or 'E' at the end.") With broccoli I remember that it's a member of the cabbage family and NOT the lettuce family; ergo two "C's" rather than two "L's".

Anytime you read about methods to improve your memory, they invariably include the suggestion that you use word associations (particularly for peoples' names.) My own associations are used more in other areas such as: Manhattan clam chowder, hook and slice, loud and soft on the telephone, and other such silliness.

Having always had to ask whether Manhattan is the tomatoey or the creamy chowder, I finally just told myself that there are two "T's" in Manhattan and two in tomatoes and none in New England.

On the golf course, I never knew if that ball (of my husband's) was hooking or slicing so I used an alphabet association there, too. Hook is left and slice is right and simply because "H" and "L" are close together and "S" and "R" are neighbors in the alphabet.

So — having mastered that (I thought), my husband hit his drive way left and said, "Wow, did I slice THAT!" What-the-heck (I said to myself), doesn't HE know (by now) a hook from a slice?

Solution: I just don't remark on his fairway shots since, being left-handed, he is just a wee bit "backward."

Oh yes, about the telephone. I never could remember if I was turning the darn signal up or down and practically always had it reversed. So, left-is-loud, and right-is-soft; (am I confusing you?) It may sound pretty dumb, but it works for me!

NIGGLY LITTLE ANNOYANCES: Unsolicited phone calls (do yours always come in the middle of dinner preparations, too?) And how about those darn signs which command "Use other door!" (Gr-r-r.)

THE BOTTOM LINE: At the age of 20 we don't care what the world thinks of us and at the age of 40 we realize it wasn't even thinking of us in the first place.

Reader sends two more squash recipes

Had a call at home last Wednesday from "gal down the line" who (much to my chagrin) wishes to remain anonymous. But, she said, on passing our garden so often and KNOWING we're loaded with not only zucchini but all the other goodies that come at this time of year, she felt she wanted to share two of her family's pet dishes with us.

The first, she told me, is a meal in itself and all she serves with it is crusty French bread and sometimes a tossed green salad. She also added that she usually makes two batches at a time and freezes one for future use. She had my mouth just watering by the time she was through and, wouldn't you know, I didn't have to cook that night (Bert was at a golf outing and the girls and I were heading for a bridal shower). It IS going to be on the menu, though, next week whenever everyone's schedule jibes and we can sit down to dinner as a foursome.

Our thanks for the contribution. I expect my family will be as enthusiastic about Cheesed Zucchini as yours is.

CHEESED ZUCCHINI

Using a shallow baking dish, layer the first tier with sliced zucchini and sprinkle with salt, garlic salt, a pinch of oregano and black pepper. Slice tomatoes over first layer and season as above; then slice onions

(she prefers sweet Bermudas) and again season as before. Then place slices of your favorite cheese (American, Muenster, Monterey Jack, Colby, etc. — our contributor likes Colby best) over the onions. The final layer is made up of slices of bacon and "she" uses LOTS of it, placing very closely together. Bake, uncovered, at 350 degrees for 45 minutes to 1 hour.

This recipe, we were told, was one she found some eight years ago in a Better Homes and Gardens magazine.

Her second offering is another she makes in quantity and freezes in either seal-a-meal packets or cardboard containers.

ZUCCHINI AND CORN

Heat in a 2-quart sauce pan:

- |  |
|--|
| 2 tablespoons butter or oleo               |
| 3 cups diced zucchini                      |
| 1 cup fresh corn (or canned if you prefer) |
| 1 1/2 cups diced tomatoes                  |
| 1 tablespoon finely chopped green pepper   |
| 1 1/2 teaspoon sugar                       |
| 2 teaspoons salt                           |
| 1/4 teaspoon black pepper                  |

Mix, cover and cook until barely tender. The above makes six small servings or three generous ones. Cool before freezing.

Nation's best skiers converge on Brighton

Tivoli Gardens hosts ski championships

Tivoli Gardens, southeast of Brighton, will be the site of the 36th annual National Water Ski Championships Aug. 23-27.

The event is sanctioned by the American Water Ski Association and will draw top skiers of all ages from all areas of the nation.

Water skiing has become a highly perfected sport that attracts some 13,000,000 Americans annually, according to the Travel Bureau of the Michigan Department of Commerce.

Tivoli Gardens is a five year-old facility developed exclusively for competitive water skiing and is considered one of only a handful of perfect water ski tournament sites in the world.

The national championships will comprise 12 divisions of competition in three major events — slalom, tricks and jumping. Entrants must meet rigid requirements as established by the AWSA. Qualifiers have not only worked their way through the ranks of local and regional competitions, but also have invested hundreds of hours of grueling practice and training to meet the demands of courage, coordination and split second timing required by the contests.

In slalom competition, the skier must round six buoys on one ski while being towed at a precise speed. The procedure is repeated until the skier misses. On each "pass" through the course the speed of the tow boat is increased and the length of the tow rope shortened.

Jumping is the most dangerous and exciting of the events. It gives the contestant three chances to reach the greatest airborne distance off the jumping ramp, landing and skiing to the ride-out buoy without falling.

The most intricate of the three events is trick skiing, performed on short, wide, rudderless skis. Each trick has a designated value and the skier is rated on the number of tricks successfully completed in two, 20 second runs through a course approximately 200 yards long.

In addition to the thrills of the aquatic competitions, spectators will be treated to a spectacular water show.

For further information regarding the National Water Ski Championships and other Michigan events, call the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce, Lansing, toll free. In Michigan, the number is (800) 292-2520; out-of-state, dial (800) 248-5456.

Skiing thrills

The nation's best water skiers will descend on Tivoli Gardens near Brighton Aug. 23-27 as Michigan plays host to the 36th annual National Water Ski Championships.

Skiers will be competing in three challenging events — the slalom, jumping and tricks — during the four-day championship.

'Starrific' entertainment includes musicals, ballet

Four live musical specials, a live ballet performance and a number of musical special encores, highlight a week full of "Starrific" entertainment on Channel 56.

"Starrific" is the combination of great stars and terrific programs put together by Channel 56 and running Aug. 19-29.

On Aug. 21 at 9 p.m., the big band sounds of Tex Beneke and Bob Eberly are featured in a brand new, live concert from Wolf Trap Park in Washington, D.C.

Beneke, Eberly and special guest, Helen O'Connell, present an evening of swing music featuring the music sounds of Jimmy Dorsey and Glenn Miller.

Immediately following, at 11:30 p.m., will be Benny Goodman in an encore presentation of "In Performance at Wolf Trap." The undisputed "King of Swing" will fill the evening with classic Goodman tunes.

On the next evening, Aug. 22, at 9 p.m., another part of American culture comes into focus, in another live special from Wolf Trap, starring Pete Seeger and Arlo Guthrie.

These two noted grass-roots musicians of American folk ballads perform selections from their new album, "Pete Seeger and Arlo Guthrie Together in Concert."

The words and music of one of America's greatest folk poets, Woody Guthrie, will be featured at 11:30 p.m., the same evening on a recent episode from the "Soundstage" series. Judy Collins, Pete Seeger and Arlo Guthrie perform both the famous and the little-known material of Woody Guthrie.

On Aug. 23 at 9 p.m., music and dance are combined in a performance by the Joffrey Ballet, live from Artpark in Lewiston, N.Y.

The Joffrey Ballet, known worldwide for its inventive repertoire, will be accompanied by the Buffalo Philharmonic in a varied program including Frederick Ashton's "Jazz Calendar" and the Chopin Preludes.

Another ballet-oriented special follows at 11:30 p.m. as Channel 56 presents a repeat of the hour-long special "Margot Fonteyn."

Aug. 24, is jazz night as Chuck Mangione and his quartet perform live for 2½ hours, starting at 8:30 p.m. Innovative composer-musician Mangione combines jazz, ballad and pop in the vibrant style of his latest album "Feels So Good."

The final live concert of the week, on Aug. 25, will be a gala 60th birthday celebration for Leonard Bernstein, starting at 8:30 p.m. Mstislav Rostropovich, Laureh Bacall, Aaron Copland and others gather for a live salute to one of America's foremost conductor-composers.

Following the birthday celebration will be two more classical specials. At 11 p.m., Bernstein will be featured in a repeat showing of a performance with the National Orchestra of France. At midnight, another famous orchestra from Europe, the Vienna Philharmonic, will celebrate the 150th birthday of Josef Strauss with the talents of the Vienna State Opera Ballet and the Vienna Boys Choir.

Country music has the spotlight on Aug. 26, as Channel 56 brings back the "Grand Ole Opry."

"Live From the Grand Ole Opry" was originally seen back in March and turned out to be one of the most popular shows in Channel 56 history. The Opry will be seen at 8 p.m. and repeated again at midnight.

The country lineup for Saturday night also will include "An Evening of Bluegrass" with Doc and Merle Watson at 6 p.m.; and "Hank," a one-man show about Hank Williams at 7 p.m.

Fair sets Charleston contest

The first annual giant Charleston Dance Contest has been scheduled for Aug. 27 at the Michigan State Fair, as part of the fair's celebration of its new "Roaring '20s Day."

TIPS FOR HOMEOWNERS

A tip on adding insulation to an attic floor: Use batts or blankets that don't have a vapor barrier, which is a layer of heavy paper or foil on one surface. A vapor barrier might trap moisture within the old insulation.

If the vapor-barrier type is all that is available, slash the barrier freely with a knife. Then install the insulation with the slashed side on the bottom.

If no insulation already exists, thick batts with a vapor barrier should be laid between floor joists with the vapor barrier down.

More tips are available in a 24-page booklet, "How to Save Money by Insulating Your Home." Send 30 cents to National Mineral Wool Insulation Association, 382 Springfield Ave., Summit, N.J. 07901.

Anyone can enter as long as you come as a couple and dress in Roaring '20s style.

To add to the authenticity, fair officials have signed on Chet Bogan and his Wolverine Jazz Band to provide the dancing music. Bogan's band was one of the eight authentic Dixieland bands chosen to play at the recent Bix Beiderbecke Festival.

currently being broadcast over public television.

Besides the Charleston Contest, the fair is marking Roaring '20s Day with an individual costume contest. Costumes will be judged for quality, authenticity and overall effectiveness.

Both contests offer trophies and cash prizes of $100, $50 and $25. Persons who would like to watch the fun should show up at 2 p.m. in the State Fair's Coliseum Grove. Admission is free to fairgoers.

Persons who wish to enter either contest should contact Harold Arnoldi, director of special events, Michigan State Fair, Detroit 48203, or call 368-1000.

Faust returns $1,000 in campaign money

WILLIAM FAUST
State Senator

State Senator William Faust (D-Westland) said he will return nearly $1,000 in campaign contributions that may have been "inadvertently" accepted from corporations.

Corporate contributions are prohibited under the Campaign Finance Act.

Faust's 13th District includes Wayne, Westland, Romulus, Garden City, Canton, Van Buren and Sumpter Townships and Belleville.

The senator is running for re-election this fall. Although by election law his name will appear on the August primary ballot, he is the only Democrat running.

Faust said the money he is returning was raised through the sale of ads in a souvenir booklet distributed at a recent fund-raising event.

"In checking a report compiled mainly by volunteer workers, we have found several checks that have either 'Inc.' or what appear to be corporate names printed on them," Faust said.

"In order to fully comply with the Campaign Finance Act and to avoid even the slightest appearance of wrongdoing we are returning these funds to the donors with an explanatory letter."

Faust said that the possible error was detected while checking a financial statement recently filed with the Secretary of State's Office.

"This form was filed on June 30th of this year, when the Legislature met for a 17-hour marathon session of budget work," he said. "Although these possible discrepancies were not detected at the time, we are bringing the matter to the attention of the Secretary of State so that he can make a decision on the matter."

"This is the first time the Campaign Finance Act has been in effect for the State Senate and there are several confusing aspects of the law," said Faust. "I am returning this money, however, to make sure that I comply with both the letter and the spirit of the law."

'Vial of Life' plan backed

"Vial of Life" will become a household word throughout Wayne County on Oct. 7, according to an ambitious plan mapped by the Wayne County Vial of Life Task Force.

The task force, consisting of citizens and representatives of municipalities and the county government, has set that date for door-to-door distribution of Vial of Life kits.

The plan calls for recruitment of thousands of volunteers to distribute vials of life to some 800,000 households.

The Vial of Life program involves keeping medical information forms for each family member in a marked vial (small plastic pill bottle) in the refrigerator. Vial-of-Life stickers are placed on the refrigerator door and the household's front door to alert personnel responding to a medical emergency.

Families also are encouraged to carry the medical information forms in the glove compartment of the family car and on their persons.

The goal of county-wide distribution was adopted at the first meeting of the task force, attended by some 25 representatives of municipalities, public agencies and interested citizen groups Aug. 2 at the City-County Building.

"The response at the Task Force meeting was so enthusiastic that the members wanted to set a firm date immediately so that the Nation's largest Vial-of-Life distribution can be completed before the inclement weather of fall and winter sets in," explained County Commissioner Erv Steiner (R-Grosse Pointe), the Task Force Chairman.

Steiner was appointed the task force chairman by Jarrette Simmons, chairman of the Board of Commissioners, because he initiated the county study which resulted in the board's formation of the task force.

The Wayne County Vial-of-Life Task Force was established by the County Board of Commissioners recently after the County Health Director, Dr. Perry Stearns and the Detroit-Wayne County Emergency Medical Services Council strongly endorsed the program and urged participation by every household.

Cost of the county-wide program, based on a total of 1,000,000 vials and related printed materials, was estimated at $90,000 by County Purchasing Director Patrick J. Gibbons, with each "kit" costing about 9 cents.

"We intend to implement this program without using any public tax funds," said Steiner.

The task force set concentrations of senior citizens, such as apartment buildings, and persons with breathing problems, as recommended by the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan, plus persons prone to unconsciousness, as top priority.

Onas Rowe, Garden City Fire Chief, and Kenneth Warfield, Wayne fire chief, were appointed to prepare materials regarding other "personal safety" programs which can be distributed with the Vial of Life materials.

Information on the vial of life program is available by phoning the Wayne County Department of Health at 729-2211, ext. 200.

The Bible has the answer

(This weekly series of questions and answers are being supplied by The Rev. Ronald Elie, pastor of the Zion Missionary Church of Belleville).

Dear Pastor Elie,
The Bible says the Sabbath was made for man. Everyone knows that recreation goes along with rest. In fact in the Army they just call it "R & R." So why shouldn't our day of worship be devoted to fun, entertainment and relaxing—besides worship of course? There is no question that Sabbath should be kept holy during church services. Shouldn't we be able to indulge a little, if Sabbath was made for man?

Goodtime all the time Joe Romulus

Dear Joe,

The Bible gives the answer. When Jesus said the Sabbath was for man, He meant that this one day out of seven was designed to meet man's need for rest and his spiritual refreshment. He also said in Mark 2:27-28 that He, not man, is Lord of the Sabbath.

Check Isaiah 58:13-14 to see God's attitude toward self-indulgence on the Sabbath. "If you keep the Sabbath holy, not having your own fun and business on that day, but enjoying the Sabbath and speaking of it with delight as the Lord's holy day, and honoring the Lord in what you do, not following your own desires and pleasure, nor talking idly—then the Lord will be your delight, and I will see to it that you ride high and get your full share of the blessings I promised to Jacob, your father. The Lord has spoken."

Examine your motive, Joe. Are you desiring interpretation of the Sabbath law, or loop-holes.

Pastor Elie

Send your questions to: Rev. Ronald Elie, Zion Missionary Church, 89 Edgemont, Belleville.

Picnic called success

The 14th annual picnic, held by Congressmen William D. Ford on Saturday, was a huge success, according to a spokesman in the congressman's office.

"We had the biggest turnout we ever had, estimated at more than 8,000 people," the spokesman said. "We used all the food u— it was all eaten up, every bit."

"All the food" took in some 700 pounds of kielbasa, 600 hotdogs, 800 dozen ears of corn, 55 kegs of beer and thousands of bottles of Coke.

Candidates for practically every office in the State of Michigan — senator, state rep, governor, commissioner — showed up at the picnic in New Liberty Park, Huron Township, and were introduced by name, but not allowed to make any speeches.

The event's scheduled hours ran from 12 noon to 6 p.m., and the entry price was $7 per car, or $1 perhead, if more than seven people showed up in one vehicle.

The cooking crew arrived well in advance — about 6 a.m. — the congressman's spokesman said, to set up the stoves and ovens for the feast.

"We used an old-fashioned steam engine to steam the hot dogs, to lend a little touch of nostalgia," he added.

Rep. Ford thanked everyone for coming to the picnic. Members of his own family present included his wife, Martha, their two sons, John and Bill Jr., and his mother, Mrs. Jean Ford, as well as numerous other relatives.

Cultural and architectural attractions in Michigan give travelers the chance to see accomplishments of past civilizations and man-made wonders of the present. Fine arts exhibits offer a close look at 17th Century Dutch and Flemish paintings or an earful of Johann Sebastian Bach's music. Such architectural gems as Mackinac Island's Grand Hotel and Marshall's Honolulu House can be toured while persons seeking a more contemporary look can view Calder's La Grande Vitesse sculpture in Grand Rapids.

Recreational units on two-lane roads usually travel below maximum speeds. To prevent traffic jams behind, persons towing trailers should make occasional stops on the shoulder and allow faster-moving traffic to pass safely.

Offbeat Michigan

Cultral, architectural attractions show off state

("Cultural and Architectural Attractions" is the 11th in a series of 15 weekly articles on "Offbeat Michigan." These features are designed to encourage Michigan tourism and near-home travel.)

A tour of Michigan's cultural and architectural attractions provides a unique look at the state's history from prehistoric times to the most modern paintings and sculptures.

The opportunity to hear the music of Maynard Ferguson, Helen Reddy or Johann Sebastian Bach, see a Shakespearean comedy or a high school musical or view a former governor's collection of African art all are part of such a tour.

A trip to Mackinac Island's stately Grand Hotel or a visit to the magnificent Honolulu House in Marshall offer a glimpse of 19th century building feats.

Situated high on a bluff is one of the Great Lakes' outstanding landmarks, the Grand Hotel (906-847-3331). Built of Michigan white pine, the Grand was only half its present size when opened in 1887. It is now the world's largest summer hotel with 350 guest rooms and an 880-foot front porch, longest in the world.

Honolulu House (616-781-8544) was built in 1860 by a former justice of the Michigan Supreme Court who also served as U.S. consul to Hawaii. The former residence, which is owned by the Marshall Historical Society, includes beautiful hand-painted 1880 wall murals and a collection of Victorian pieces.

Perry Hannah House (616-947-6347) was the residence of the founder of Traverse City. The 40-room structure has 10 fireplaces, copper-lined ceiling, two-foot-thick walls and is valued at $3 million. While the residence is now a funeral home, tours are given when set up in advance.

The Calumet Fire Station (906-337-1713) is an Upper Peninsula architectural landmark, which was built in 1899. The structure, which is scheduled for restoration, houses a 1920 fire engine.

Michiganians seeking an earful of musical bliss rather than an eyeful of 19th century architecture will find sounds ranging from the pop tunes of Helen Reddy (Aug. 25) to the classical renditions of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at Meadow Brook Theatre (313-377-3300). Located in Wilson Hall on Rochester's Oakland University campus, Meadow Brook is one of the country's most successful resident theaters.

Interlochen Center for the Arts (616-276-9221) is part of the National Music Camp—a noted arts institute with 1,700 students enrolled in music, art, dance and drama. The 1,200-acre campus is open year-round, with both free student and professional entertainment. Interlochen is about 20 miles southwest of Traverse City.

Two Shakespeare plays are part of the entertainment at Power Center for the Performing Arts (313-763-3333) in Ann Arbor. Musicals, dramas, and symphonies are staged in three separate theatres at the Midland Center of the Arts (517-631-5930).

Bloomfield Hills' Cranbrook Academy of Arts (313-645-3312) features changing monthly art exhibits in its six galleries plus shows from the school's art students. Artworks dating from 3000 B.C. to the present are part of the collection at Kresge Art Center (517-355-7610) at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

Former governor G. Mennen Williams' African art collection, noted Dutch and Flemish 17th Century paintings and exhibits tracing the arts from ancient to modern times highlight displays at the Detroit Institute of Arts p/313-833-7900).

The Grand Rapids Art Museum (616-459-4676) features a permanent display of German expressionist paintings while Hackley Art Gallery (616-722-6954) in Muskegon has a fine collection of works from the Old Masters.

A contemporary artist's view may be seen in Alexander Calder's La Grande Vitesse. This 42-ton, 54-foot-high sculpture is located in front of the Grand Rapids City Hall.

The Molder commemorates the craftsmen who have helped sustain the foundry industry at Albion. It is at Michigan and Superior streets.

Tipton's Cemetery is the site of the first Civil War Monument erected in the North after the Civil War. Adrian's Soldiers Civil War Monument consists of a pillar from the former First National Bank of Philadelphia. It is in Monument Park. A statue honoring Gen. George Custer is in a small park at Monroe and Elm streets in Monroe.

Westland Little League dream ends

2-1 loss closes 'best year ever'

Westland Central West Major Little League All-Stars learned the hard way that "the game is never over until the last man is out."

Manager Mike Doller's talented crew lost a heart-breaking 2-1 decision to Petosky in the state finals Friday after two were out in the last inning.

It was an especially disappointing defeat for Westland because the local lads had nursed a first-inning run into the sixth inning and had two outs with the potential tying Petosky run on second.

A routine grounder to the Westland second baseman hit a stone and bounced into right center field as the Petosky runner raced home with the tying run. Westland Rightfielder Rob Czajka threw a strike to home plate but the sliding runner beat the peg and the batter took second on the throw.

Then the next batter's soft bloop fly escaped the outstretched gloves of the Westland defenders and fell safely while the winning Petosky run crossed the plate.

"It was a real heartbreaking loss for the kids," said Doller, who, along with coaches Phil Zubor and Steve Cuomo, had taken the little league squad farther than any similar Westland contingent had gone in state play.

Fire-balling Rick Osterhout was the main victim of the misfortune as he pitched a three-hitter, struck out nine and walked only two in the route-going performance.

Completing the pitcher's duel was Petosky's hurler, who allowed only four safeties, fanned seven and issued three free passes.

"It was a real great game and Petosky deserves an awful lot of credit for hanging in there when they could have folded," Doller said.

Westland skipped into its early 1-0 lead as second baseman Mike Young singled up the middle to open the game. He stole second and third and came home on a passed ball.

Doller didn't know it at the time, but that was all the Central West All-Stars would score Friday, even though they had several opportunities.

Westland had excellent chances in the fourth and fifth innings, but couldn't dent the plate. In the fourth, Bobby Kajawski walked to open the frame. After the next batter fanned, Keith Riling drew a free pass and both runners moved up on a passed ball with one out.

However, the Petosky hurler struck out the next Westland batter and induced the last hitter to bounce out second to first.

In the fifth, the first two Westlanders went down on strikes. Then Osterhout and John McKolay both walked and moved up on a passed ball. But that open door slammed abruptly when the next batter grounded out to end the inning.

Westland went out 1-2-3 in the sixth before the series of heartbreaking events led to their defeat.

And things looked so rosy for the local team, too. Osterhout was in a jam in the Petosky fourth. He gave up a single and two walks to clog the sacks. But he bore down and struck out the last two Petosky swingers to end the threat.

Doller said that Osterhout never shows emotion on the mound, but this time the young right-hander leaped for joy as he fanned the Petosky batter to end the inning.

But things didn't work out so well in the sixth. Petosky's first batter walked and was sacrificed to second. The next batter flew out for thesecond out and Westland clung to its heart-pounding 1-0 lead and one out away from victory.

Then came the bad-bounce single off the stone and the bloop single that ended the greatest season for a Westland Little League team ever.

Doller was full of praise for everyone who helped the Westland Central West All Stars go so far.

"I had an awful lot of help from coaches Phil Zubor and Steve Cuomo. These two were always there, even when I couldn't be and I appreciate them very much," Doller said.

Doller also thanked Lincoln Park and its excellent umpires in the district tournament and Taylor in the sectional. "Taylor has the finest little league diamond I've ever seen," said the 30-year-old manager, who has no sons and three daughters.

He also praised Harper Woods for the great state tournament and Ned Dye, president of Westland Central West League, parents and especially the players themselves.

Jolly English chap heads Wayne soccer program...

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Jim Hudson, director of Wayne's new soccer program to start in the fall is from Nottingham, England. He married a girl from Wyandotte, Mich., while she was teaching in his country. Here's a brief profile on Jim's life:

I was born in Nottingham in England on Oct 26, 1951 and have only recently come to America in August, 1976. My wife, Cindy, is a native of the City of Wyandotte.

Currently I teach at St. Mary's School in Wayne.

My experience in Soccer is as follows:

School Soccer teams throughout my younger years.

I took my degree at University of Manchester and was a player in its Soccer League.

Coached Soccer for three years in the 11-14 year old age group. My team of 14 year olds won the Essex league title in 1975-76.

"Sports I participate in apart from Soccer are, racquet ball, badminton, tennis. I also am qualified to teach lifesaving.

My philosophy for this Soccer program, and indeed sports in general is that the primary aim is to get as many youngsters involved as possible and to see them enjoying themselves.

Of course there will be competitiveness but it will not be allowed to override sportsmanship.

Many youngsters needing the healthy exercise and social interaction sports can give are pushed too often into the negative aspects of competition and either lose their sense of fun or are alienated.

Soccer will give both them and the adults who learn to coach them a fresh start and a new outlook on what sports should be.

Jim brings to the Wayne scene a refreshing touch of old Britain, old chap!

His gentle demeanor is a welcome change from the gung-ho approach of many people in this country. Soft-spoken (at least during our interview), Jim still gets his point across with enviable emphasis.

And what a rich, varied background he comes from!

His father, Bernard, was a professional soldier and Jim lived in Singapore when he was four years old. He says he still remembers the hot, muggy weather when he was four. (Good memory, Jim!). And I believe him, because there are certain incidents I remember when I was four years old, (like learning to write sports).

Sporting a trim, neat beard which he strokes often, Jim recalls his early days in English prep school.

He moved around England quite a bit but spent most of his time growing up in Nottingham, home of a munitions plant. Most people in England leave school by age 16, Jim says, and either go into vocational occupations or onto universities to pursue academic subjects.

"There are no sports degrees awarded in England as a major...you can get a degree in physical education as a minor, but you have to take your major in an academic subject," Jim said.

The 5-foot-7, 126 pound former soccer star played left wing. "I ran like hades all over the place, tackling and in general trying to make a nuisance of myself to the opponent," Jim laughed.

The biggest problem for most kids starting out in soccer is that they don't "see the situation forming", Jim explained. But he says a lot of talent is not needed to be successful in soccer.

(See soccer story on second sports page).

Public donations needed

New Boston Huron hopes to save sports

New Boston Huron High School, like those in several other communities, has no money to have any sports this school year.

And so Hank Smith, athletic director, in cooperation with the booster club, is undertaking a fund-raising project that will enable Huron senior and junior high school students participate in sports.

There will be a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 17, in the Huron High School auditorium and Smith says it is absolutely vital that everybody interested in sports and other extra-curricular activities be on hand.

"Our goal is to raise $27,000 to support all extra-curricular activities, which includes an entire sports program for Renton Junior High and Huron High School," said Smith, who has been at Huron 12 years, the past seven as athletic director.

"I honestly don't know if we can raise $27,000 or now," he admits, "but we're certainly going to give it all the energy we have."

Smith said he estimated it would take $11,000 to cover the cost of all varsity sports for the fall, which includes boy's football, girl's basketball, cross-country and golf and cheerleading.

"I want to see what happens at the first meeting," Smith explained. "I want to work with the booster club...it's been very active and very helpful over the years and we appreciate their efforts very much."

Smith also announced that physicals for all senior and junior high school athletes will be held today (Wed., Aug. 16) from 4-7 p.m. in the high school gym.

Smith asked everyone to pass the word along about today's physicals and said the cost would be a minimal $2.

Livonia coach gets job

Belleville names Hellier new Athletic Director

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Sports Writer

Livonia Franklin High School, a hotbed of winning coaches, has produced the new athletic director for Belleville High School.

Ron Hellier, 38, head baseball coach and physical instructor at Franklin, has been appointed to fill the vacancy left by the death of beloved Harry Hidenfelter in May.

And in accepting the new position, Hellier carries the positive attitude and winning credentials to carry Belleville to sports prominence in the days ahead.

"My new position will be challenging and it will be a tough job following the good work of Mr. Hidenfelter," Hellier told the ANP in an interview.

"If the Belleville staff will be patient with me, I know it will work out. I am looking forward to working with the staff and the program."

Hellier's 10 years of hard work has been blessed with success at Franklin, where the Olivet College graduate showed his versatility in coaching baseball, wrestling, hockey and girls' basketball.

He admits it is difficult leaving "a bunch of fellow pros" in the coaching ranks at Franklin High. "It will be hard to leave a truly fine staff at Franklin where my life has been centered for the past 10 years," said the trim, 5-foot-10, 170 pound Hellier.

"The Franklin coaching staff is professional and successful and a super group of human beings. It will be tough giving up my old number '24,'" he admitted, referring to his baseball uniform.

It was in the horsehide sport that Hellier became best known. He played baseball and ran cross country for Livonia Bentley High School before graduating in 1958.

Then he pitched and played outfield four years for Olivet College, where he earned his BA degree in psychology in 1965. He later received a MS degree in Physical Education from Eastern Michigan University and was graduate assistant baseball coach under Ron Oestrike, one of the most respected of college baseball mentors.

Ron learned his lessons well.

Because after starting his teaching and coaching career in Livonia in 1968, his baseball teams, especially, enjoyed success. Hellier reached the pinnacle of baseball prominence in 1976 when his Patriots won 24 and lost only six in finishing third in the state rankings.

Hellier was honored for his work by being named Michigan High School Baseball Coach of the Year. He has played and coached in Livonia summer programs since 1958 and it was Hellier who originated and coached the Livonia area all-star game in 1976.

"I've also been quite busy on the state level," he says. "I am the treasurer and regional chairman for the Michigan High School Baseball Coaches Association and also baseball representative to the Michigan High School Coaches Association."

Hellier's astute baseball ability has not gone unnoticed by major league baseball clubs. He has scouted for three big league teams, including the Kansas City Royals, Cincinnati Reds and now with the Toronto Blue Jays.

In addition, he has been called upon often the past few years to speak at baseball clinics around the state, most recently at Michigan High School All Sports Clinic, Central Michigan University Clinic and Macomb Community College baseball clinic.

A resident of Canton Township for several years, Hellier and his wife, Laurie, have two children, Lisa, 9, and Robbie, age 6.

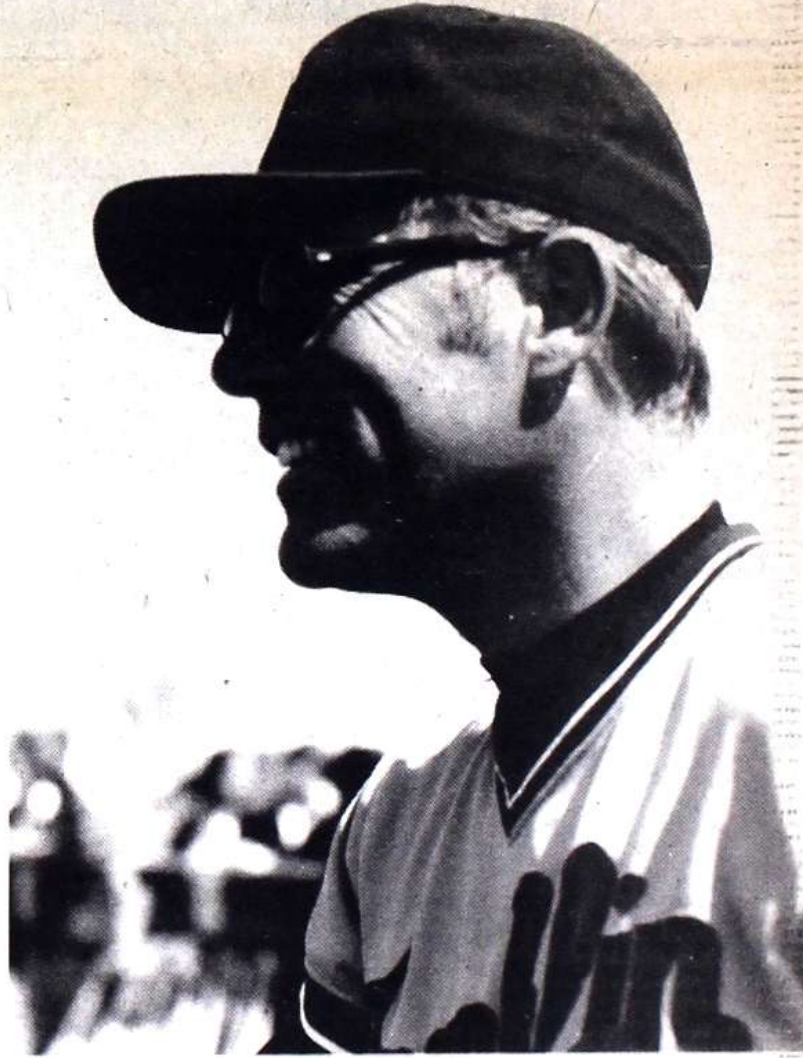

"They are my best fans," Ron laughs, "and they try to go to as many games as they can." He met his wife at Olivet where she was a cheerleader and she will no doubt be his biggest cheerleader as he accepts this new sports challenge.

George Lovich, athletic director at Livonia Franklin, has mixed emotions about losing a man of Hellier's caliber.

"I'm happy that Ron has this opportunity and we wish him the very best success, but his leaving is going to create a big void to fill."

"He's one of the very best baseball coaches around and he has the respect and acceptance of the kids. I'm sure this trait will help him to be successful in the future," Lovich said.

RON HELLIER:

"I look forward to the challenge with great anticipation. . ."

Dates are Aug. 18-20

Wayne to host softball tourney

The Westland Athletic Officials Association (WAOA) has again selected the City of Wayne as the site for its prestigious Women's Invitational Softball Tournament.

The classic will be held this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 18, 19, and 20 at Attwood Park's Anderson Field two diamonds, Howe Road at Annapolis Ave., in Wayne.

Sixteen top notch teams have entered the two game elimination event, including outstanding squads from Ann Arbor, Dexter, Roseville, Detroit, Livonia, Dearborn, Allen Park, Westland, Monroe and Wayne.

A total of 53 awards will be given by WAOA and four prizes will be raffled off, according to tournament director George Gillies.

"The tournament has been such a success in the past, it will be difficult to emulate," said Gillies. "WAOA, Michigan's number one umpire association will do a play-by-play of all games and when not officiating, the umpires will become part of the ground crew."

"This will give the fans a look at the finest ground crew ever assembled," he said.

Gillies turned down offers from other cities to bring the tournament back to Wayne. "The people of Wayne have been fantastic to us and it's a real privilege to be associated with the recreational professionals they have in Wayne—Ted D'Pulos and Mike Gouin."

Large concession stands will be available with a variety of drinks, food, snacks and souvenirs. The VFW Post 3323 Color Guard and soloist Dave Herge will perform prior to the championship game at 5 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 20, Gillies said.

More than 1,000 spectators witnessed last year's championship game and WAOA officials are hoping to have an even larger turnout this year.

D'Pulos and Gouin are thrilled to host the tournament

"I have seen and played in professionally-run tournaments around the country and there is not one that's better organized and run than this one put on by George Gillies," Gouin said.

"They keep up-to-the-minute statistics on every player in the tournament and their ground crew keeps the fields in top shape for every game."

"It's truly an honor to be chosen to host this tournament and every softball fan who attends will be glad they did," said Gouin.

Romulus High School holds sport clinic

There will be a Sports Orientation Night for all athletes in Romulus at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 21 in the Romulus High School auditorium.

All athletes, male and female, who are planning on participating in sports this school year must attend and at least one parent must be present with them.

The main feature of the meeting will be Jack Moores, head athletic trainer for University of Detroit, who will hold a clinic on proper training and the prevention and proper care of injuries.

He will also speak on nutrition and proper diet.

Bill Hardy, new Romulus High School athletic director, plans to make the sports orientation program an annual event.

"We will have it earlier next year, but had to hold it at this time due to a lack of time," Hardy said. "It will be an annual event and we want to emphasize that all athletes planning to participate in sports this school year must attend Monday's meeting and have at least one of their parents with them."

Hardy said elementary age boys and girls up through high school seniors were requested to attend the informative sports program Monday night.

Soccer booms into Wayne

Wayne Parks and Recreation Department is establishing a program this fall which should excite many youngsters and adults in the area. Soccer leagues and clinics are being set up and registration accepted for ages K-7 and an appeal is made for adults who would like to coach.

Children interested will have to spend $3 and supply their own white shorts, socks, and tennis shoes. A healthy competitive atmosphere with lots of fun and excitement is the program's general aim and Soccer is the ideal way of providing those things.

"Soccer is a sport of exciting contradictions because it demands stamina and continuous physical involvement and yet it is a game of delicate and thoughtful skills," said Jim Hudson, director of the new program. "It is a satisfying team game which relies heavily on personal flair and dogged persistence; while its seen as a new sport in America, in the rest of the world Soccer (called football in most countries) is a major sport drawing millions of spectators, millions of dollars and millions of youngsters. The latter are particularly important because no sport can survive long without the enthusiasm of youngsters participating each week at some level in its magic.

And make no mistake about it, Soccer does contain magic for thousands of Michigan children and adults.

It's freshness and spontaneity and the reaction it invokes from children and adults alike are welcome contrast to the heavy pressures put on participants in the established sports.

"One more of the beauties of Soccer is that everyone in a team gets to use every skill; certainly there are named positions but every team member is called upon to run, tackle, attack and defend," Hudson said.

The Wayne Parks and Recreation Department seeks to base their Soccer Program on this idea of fun and participation and if you share the same spirit contact Jim Hudson, Soccer Director, 721-7400.

You can register now for $3 at the office of the City of Wayne Department of Parks and Recreation on Howe Road and Annapolis.

Jim Hudson, program director, shows Sue Schwartz, 10, and John Williams, 11 how to do it.

Inkster schedules tourney

Inkster Parks and Recreation Department is gearing up for its prestigious annual Lafayette Allen Women's Softball Tournament on Aug. 24, 25, 26 and 27. It is open to champions and runnersup in surrounding cities and there are only four openings left, according to Booker Dozier. Entry fee is $50 and interested teams must call 565-4100, ex. 16, 17 or 18, as soon as possible if they want to enter. First games will start at 6:45 p.m. each day and will action be at Westwood Park, John Daly at Stollman, and at Dozier Field, Beech Daly and Carlyle.

The double elimination tourney already has some high-class entries. Included in the field is defending champions FBI of Detroit and also Sterling Travelers of Sterling Heights; Raiders of Pontiac; two Inkster teams, Mister Warren and ISIS, and squads from other cities.

Inkster softball fans will get to see three stars from their own city in Theresa Gibson, Priscilla Gray and Tareia Gray (no relation to Priscilla). Theresa has had a pro tryout and has been featured at Little Caesar's Pro Softball games in East Detroit in hitting exhibitions.

"She can hit the ball a mile," said Dozier, who says the tournament is one of the top-notch softball events in the entire area.

Girl sets swim mark

This last weekend Julie Jensen, a seven year old Westland resident, set a new backstroke record at the 20th Annual Charles Foster Age Group and Open A Swim Meet in Lakewood, Ohio, a suburb of Cleveland.

The meet attracted many swimmers from outside the Michigan-Ohio area with swimmers from New York, Pennsylvania, Texas, West Virginia, Illinois, California, Virginia and Canada on hand.

Julie placed first in the 50 Meter Backstroke with a time of 46.12 breaking the old age-seven-and-under record set by Karin Kinsman, a fellow Michigander in 1975 (Garden City Parks and Recreation).

Julie also placed third in the 50 Meter Freestyle with a time of 43.58. Besides swimming AAU Julie swam as a member of the Dearborn Country Club this summer. The season was successful with the seven year old teaming up with fellow club members Mary Schwyn, Michelle Rogula, and Jennifer Love to set a new age eight-and-under Freestyle relay record of 1:17.174 for 500 meters.

Julie has two older brothers: Michael (11) and John (9). Mike has recently returned from two weeks at Tanuga Swim Camp and established himself as the youngest swimmer to circumnavigate the lake.

JULIE JENSEN

This involved a 5 mile swim which was accomplished by Mike in 2 hours 19 minutes and 31 seconds. That's a long swim.

Julie's goal for the upcoming year is to match her brother John's accomplishments of setting eight meet records as an eight year old at various pools in Michigan and Ohio last year.

AUTO FACTS

An engine needs cranking assistance to start. In early days that help was a strong arm. Now, a starter does the same job. The starter is actually an electric motor with a small gear on one end of its shaft. When the key is turned to the start position, the gear meshes with a larger gear on the engine and turns the engine until it catches. The starter draws heavy current loads and requires heavy cables to carry current from the battery. The large amount could not be carried through the ignition switch and its wiring. As the switch capacity is too small and the current load would burn out its contacts. The problem is solved by a unit called the solenoid, which acts as a magnet, drawing the contacts of a large switch together giving wider passage for the large flow of current from battery to the starter.

13-12 playoff win does it!

Studio Lounge edges Big Bill's for title

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Sports Writer

Studio Lounge and Big Bill's Sports battled all the way through the final game of the Westland Men's Major Softball League season and finished in a dead heat for first place with identical 16-2 records.

And when the two arch rivals fought for the title in a playoff game, Studio Lounge emerged the victor by a single run, 13-12.

So after hundreds of hits and runs this season, there's only one run difference between the two clubs.

However, Studio Lounge pounced on Big Bill's with three runs in the first inning and two in the second on its way to a 6-1 lead going into the bottom of the third.

Big Bill's bats came alive and they raked eventual winning pitcher, Dennis Rogowski, for three runs in their half of the third to close the gap to 6-4.

The rivals matched each other in the fifth with two runs. But when Studio Lounge dented the plate with four runs in the top of the 6th and one in the 7th, their 13-6 lead looked very safe.

But Big Bill's battled back all the way in the never-say-die fashion they displayed all year. The slugging squad made things mighty uncomfortable for the eventual regular season champs by scoring six runs in the last of the 7th before Studio Lounge got the third out.

Powerful Perry Pappas was the slugging star of the game as his three fence-clearing homeruns and a single drove home six teammates for Big Bill's.

Teammate Vern Westerlund drove one over the fence and added a double and triple in his 4-RBI performance, and Tim Abramski rapped three singles in the explosive display by Big Bill's.

However, Studio Lounge, led by pitcher Dennis Rogowski's booming bat, also ripped the cover off the ball. Rogowski hit one over the fence and singled twice in driving in four runs for Studio.

Charlie Petrillo's three singles and triple and Tom Wilmot's homer out of the park and single highlighted Studio's attack.

The final regular season standings showed Studio Lounge on top with a 17-2 record and Big Bill's with 16-3.

In another playoff game, this one for fourth place, Krajenke Auto slipped by Metro Maintenance, 4-2, in a low-scoring fray.

Both teams finished the regular season with 9-9 records and tangled to see who would finish third.

Bob Follow was the hero for Krajenke as he limited Metro to only five hits and two runs. Meanwhile Ron Coleman, his opponent on the hill, handcuffed Krajenke with only eight hits, allowing only one run the last five innings.

Krajenke, led by Dean Gheardin's two singles and a double, jumped up with a trio of runs in the bottom of the first to take a lead it never relinquished.

Dave Conrad and Don Coleman were other offensive stars for Krajenke.

Metro could only muster single runs in the second and sixth against the baffling delivery of Follow. Both pitchers—Follow and Coleman—served up so many goose eggs the ballpark resembled a barnyard. Follow had five scoreless innings, including a string of three in the third, fourth and fifth, while Coleman kept the plate untouched in the second, fourth, fifth and sixth.

However, it was a completely different story in the first round of the playoffs.

Big Bill's shelled Follow with 30 hits and 27 runs in walloping Krajenke, 27-13. Lee Calloway hit an unbelievable four homeruns over the fence in one of the most dynamic displays of power seen in the area in some time.

The muscular slugger drove in nine runs to account for a third of his team's total. Teammates Don Chute (single, triple and three doubles for 5 RBIs) and Vern Westerlund (two homeruns over fence, single and 4 RBIs) made winning pitcher Calloway's job all the easier.

Big Bill's scored four in the first, four in the third, three in the fourth, nine in the fifth and four in the sixth as they tallied in every inning.

Leading Krajenke's 17-hit attack were Daryl Gunter with two singles and triple, Tom Tresick with two homers and Cliff Davidson with two hits, one a fence-clearing round-tripper.

Meanwhile, two big innings helped Studio Lounge dispose of Shoppe Around, 14-7, in their first round of the playoffs.

Six homeruns over the fence kept things exciting for the fans. For Studio Lounge, Bud Daniels clubbed two over the barrier for homers, while teammates Dennis James and Bob Adams each had solo shots.

Dennis Finrock and Ron VanHorn reached "outer space" for Shoppe Around.

Studio Lounge pounced on losing hurler Larry Holt for a pair of runs in the top of the first and five more in the second inning.

Shoppe Around tied the count at 2-2 in the bottom of the first, but trailed, 8-3, after four innings. Studio Lounge eased the pressure with a six-run outburst in the top of the sixth for a commanding 14-7 lead.

Shoppe Around added two in the sixth and two more in the seventh, but it was only window dressing for the final score.

Studio supported winning pitcher Dennis James with 18 hits and Shoppe Around rapped out 11 safeties.

Best in the WYAA's West Division

Denny McLain leads '68 champs' reunion Aug. 27

Denny McLain was one of America's biggest newsmakers of 1968.

Not just because he was the American League's Cy Young Award winner who pitched the Detroit Tigers to a world championship. His heroics on the diamond transcended sports to become part of that summer's American social scene.

That was the magic associated with McLain's pursuit of 30 victories. And, of course, his chase was successful as he finished with 31.

McLain and his fans will get the chance to relive a piece of that magic on Sunday, Aug. 27, when the 1968 World Championship Tigers get together at Tiger Stadium for a 10-year reunion.

Despite a heavy business schedule, McLain has assured the organizing committee that he will be present for festivities to be staged before the regularly-scheduled game with the Milwaukee Brewers that day.

McLain, who makes his home in Lakeland, Fla., where the Tigers conduct spring training, is scheduled to fly to Detroit from Denver the afternoon before the big event.

He will be reunited with some of the most memorable names in Tiger history. Players like Al Kaline, Bill Freehan, Gates Brown and Dick McAuliffe, to name a few. They'll all be here. And there'll be more for fans who show up at Tiger Stadium for a nostalgic trip to 10 years ago.

Music from 1968 will be featured, along with a special presentation by Up Detroit, a bright young musical group.

But the real feature of the day will be a program honoring the former world champs.

The pre-game festivities are scheduled to start at 1 p.m. and will be emceed by popular Tiger broadcaster Ernie Harwell.

As a special attraction, the first 30,000 persons entering the park on fully-paid admission tickets will receive free bronze-plated plaques with the autographs of all members of that very special 1968 team.

Wayne fetes tennis champs

Wayne Parks and Recreation held its annual Singles Tennis Tournament recently on Attwood courts and local high school stars were prominent in the winner's circle.

Both area high schools—Wayne Memorial and Westland John Glenn—had winners in the tourney.

In the boys 17-and-under, Bob Bolish of John Glenn defeated returning Wayne Memorial let-terman, Robert Nawrocki, 6-2, 6-3. Both Bolish and Nawrocki will be back next year on their varsity teams and may face each other in high school matches.

Two Wayne Memorial girl netters battled for the 17-and-under trophy in their division. Debbie Gorshek took Mary Sotala 6-4, 6-4, and both are returning to Wayne's team this coming year.

The men's singles action was marked by a number of close matches, according to Larry Wood, tournament director. In the finals, Dave Terwilliger defeated Mark Gonzales, 6-3, 6-3, to reign as this year's men's singles champion.

In women's singles, Roberta Topolsky wears the champ's crown, but not before a dogged fight by Carol Sotala. Roberta won in a top-flight finals match, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

Keith Farley reigns as undisputed title holder in the boys' 15-and-under group with a strong 6-2, 6-0 finish against runnerup Tom Fargo.

Tourney director Wood called the competition very keen and said the event was very successful.

Seven double event winners give Dolphins conference swim title

By GEORGE WHITEHEAD
(Special to ANP)

Paced by seven double-individual-event winners, the Wayne Recreation Dolphin Swim Club claimed first place in half of the 46 events to easily gain a resounding victory in the final and championship meet to maintain its dominance of the Suburban Winter-Summer Swim Conference.

For the fourth straight time in the conference's existence, Wayne captured the season victory, which is a combination of winter season (which the Dolphins have won twice) is composed of dual meets with a final championship test, while the summer season (also won twice by Wayne) consists of four stroke-dominated all-relay meets and the finals.

For the 1978 summer campaign, Wayne utilized its superb team depth in winning each the backstroke, breaststroke, butterfly and freestyle meets (all-relay competition) and then swamped the other four clubs in the championship finals for a perfect score of 30 points and the summer crown.

Lincoln Park and Crestwood each had 16 season points, while Cherry Hill and Allen Park gained 10 and nine points, respectively.

In the championship meet this summer (which is a format of each team entering two swimmers in each age and gender category), the Dolphins grabbed two of the four relay events and 21 of the 42 individual struggles for a total of 765 points.

Jim Watts and Tim White were the only swimmers to be victorious three times. Watts won the boys open 200-yard individual medley and 15-18 year breaststroke while also swimming on the 15-18 mixed 200-yard medley relay team. White captured the 50-year butterfly and 50-yard breaststroke in the boys' 11-12-year-old category and also swam on the same group's mixed medley relay team.

The double-event winners included Marry Batterson, the girls' 13-14 year old 50-yard butterfly and breaststroke; Dyanne Sweikowsky, in the girls' 8-under 25-yard backstroke and freestyle; Kate Greuber, girls, 8-under 25-yard breaststroke and butterfly; Mike Greuber, boys' 50-yard breaststroke and freestyle, and Eric Head, 50-yard breaststroke and freestyle events for boys 13 and 14 years old.

Dolphins who scored individual victories were Jeff Albert, boys' 25-yard backstroke; Catherine Batterson, girls, 13-14 backstroke; Keith Head, boys' 9-10 breaststroke; Lisa Mondock, girls' 50-yard freestyle; Dana Mastro, girls' 25-yard freestyle for 9-10 year olds; Kelly Batterson, girls' 15-18 100-yard freestyle, and Tom Brown, 100-yard freestyle for boys 15-18 years.

Catherine Batterson, Tom Brown, Gretchen Batterson and Watts teamed for a win in the 15-18 100-yard mixed medley relay, while Jenny Maher, Mark Maher and Kris Whitehead joined White in the 11-12 mixed medley relay squad.

Other Dolphins who placed to gain points in the championship meet included Sandy Burns, Mary Beth Henson, Kevin Martin, Teri Discher, David Hills, Heather Jones, Jeff Eddy, Debbie Cochran, Kim Tilley, Lisa Miles, Karl Staber, Tracey Batterson, Alan Jones, Mike Egan, Jenny Duffina, Marlene Kowalski, Alan White, David Reynolds, Randy Ferguson, Jamie Thompson, Kevin Egan, Dan Butler, Rebecca O'Kray, Mike Sims, Don Mastro, Sarah O'Kray, Diane Brown, Colleen Egan and Tim Butler.

Studio Lounge gals 'perfect'

Studio Lounge is sponsoring two first-place softball teams in Westland and the women's version sports a perfect 13-0 mark, a shade better than the men's 17-2 record.

The leaders in the Women's Class A League clobbered two rivals while second place J & D Auto was upset by Johnny's Shell. Thus, undefeated Studio Lounge gained a full game on runnerup J & D Auto, which split its pair of games for an 11-2 mark.

VFW Bova Post swept two games, including a dazzling 8-0 shutout by Sheryl Chomink, who blanked Crestwood on eight hits. The sweep gave VFW a 10-3 record, just a game behind J & D Auto.

In other action, a split in two low-scoring games left Johnny's Shell with an 8-5 record in fourth place.

Most eyes were glued on Studio Lounge which demolished Hudson's Westland twice, 20-6, and 22-1 in the make-up of a rained out game.

Hudson's led, 1-0, after the first inning in the 20-6 loss, but Studio scored two in the second, four in the third, four in the sixth and eight in the 7th inning to win easily.

Studio's 19 hits included three each by Val Finfrook, Jackie Randall and Heather Domke, whose safeties included a homerun.

Winning pitcher Sharon Turflinger scattered nine Hudson's hits, whose batters were led by Terri McKnight, Cindy Watts and Barb Roth.

In the 22-1 debacle, Studio opened with seven runs in the first inning and 10 in the second, pounding out 27 hits in the cake walk.

Turflinger again toed the slab for the winners and rapped out four hits, including a homerun and four RBI's. Mates Sharon Winkler and Jill Barrick added power at the plate. Winkler had three singles, a homer and four RBI's and Barrick drilled three singles in knocking home two runners.

Pacing Hudson's hitters were Barb Wray with a single and a homer, Pat Hughes with two singles and Joyce Hamilton with one single.

J & D Auto and Johnny's Shell split a pair of low-scoring, defensive gems. J & D scored four runs in the first inning of its 5-4 victory and hung on for dear life as Johnny's pecked away with single runs in the first, third, fourth and sixth to tie it, 4-4.

J & D won it in the bottom of the sixth with a run. The next night, Johnny's got sweet revenge as winning pitcher Sheryl Schaffer shutout J & D for five innings while her mates were scoring five times. Schaffer helped her own cause with three hits while Karen Austin and Karen Brookins added two and one hit, respectively.

Wasted in J & D's 12-hit effort were three hits by Donna Thompson and Pat Gross.

Four hits each by Barb Enoch, Vicky Pier and Gloria Giannette paced VFW's 26-3 slaughter of Crestwood Dodge.

Westland Lock and Key's Jan Crawford had a night hitters dream about when she slammed four singles and a homerun for five runs-batted-in as her team defeated Token Lounge, 25-7. Teammates Diana Staron and Donna Fisher each pounded four hits, including two homers by Staron.

Three Westway Trucking hitters had big days in their team's 23-hit, 18-6 drubbing of last place Power Packs. Keyed by a 9-run third inning, Westway had things its own way.

Pitcher Pam Cramer stacked goose eggs against the Power(less?) Packs the last four innings while giving up 14 hits in the game.

Knocking the ball lop-sided for Westway were Laura LaCroix, who had two singles, a triple and homer in a 3-RBI performance.

Carol Carney singled four times and Cindy Howell drilled a trio of one-basers for the truckers. Meanwhile, Sandy Clerk had three singles, Colleen Dudson Vicki Earl two each in Power Packs counter-attack.

Stevenson Junior High sets physicals for Aug. 24

Athletes who are planning on playing fall sports — Girl's basketball and track and boys' football and swimming — at Stevenson Junior High, 38501 Palmer Road, Westland, are urged to get their physicals.

Athletic Director Tom Hamel announced physicals for the boys and girls will be at 4 p.m. Aug. 24 in the gym.

There is no charge for the physicals and further information may be obtained by calling the school.

Two Wayne Memorial High School net stars battled it out for honors in the girls 17-and-under trophy, with Debbie Gorshek (right) defeating Mary Sotala 6-4, 6-4 in a hard-fought classic. Both girls are returning to Wayne Memorial's squad for the coming school year.

There's no love lost many times between area arch-rivals Wayne Memorial and Westland John Glenn. Glenn came out on top in this head-to-head match as Rocket star Bob Bolish (center) beat Zebra standout Robert Nawrocki, 6-2, 6-3 for the boys 17-and-under title. Both players will return to strengthen their respective teams this year.

The Women's Singles final was a Feal "shoot-out" between Roberta Topolsky (right), the eventual winner in scores of 6-2, 4-6, 6-3 over runnerup Carol Sotala as Tourney Director Larry Wood congratulates the pair.

Nancy Lopez leads field of 50

Ladies' pro golf tour comes to Dearborn

Nancy Lopez, golf's 21-year-old superstar, will be among the top 50 touring golf pros who will compete in the 1978 Lady Stroh's Open this weekend at the Dearborn Country Club.

The event will run Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The leading money winner on the 1978 Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA) tour, Miss Lopez said she and other women on the tour are looking forward to the Lady Stroh's Open.

"This Open is one of the tournaments helping to bring women's golf into prominence," she said. "The purse is great of course, and I hear the fans are responding enthusiastically."

Three Detroit area women are among the six non-professionals who qualified for spots in the Lady Stroh's Open at the amateur qualifier, played June 12 at Dearborn.

The locals include Janina Parrott, who was the first woman to compete on the Wayne State University men's team; Sue LeClair, of Ann Arbor, who has won several tournaments in Michigan this season and ranks with the state's top amateur players; and nine-time Dearborn Country Club champ, Nancy Koustas.

Cheryl McConnell of Harrow, Ontario was medalist in the Lady Stroh's Amateur qualifying round. Miss McConnell is ranked sixth among Canada's amateurs by the Canadian Ladies Golf Association.

Other qualifiers are Sarah Scott of Beloit, Wisconsin, and Cindy Figg, Mt. Pleasant, Michigan.

The tournament will be a 72-hole stroke play event featuring a total purse of $150,000, second largest on the LPGA tour. First prize in the first-year LPGA tournament is $22,500.

The Pro-Am event took place on Wednesday, Aug. 16, and featured 54 tour golfers as well as celebrities from the sports and entertainment worlds.

Tickets are available at Detroit area public and private golf courses. Ticket information can be obtained by calling the tournament office, (313) 561-5050.

Proceeds from the Lady Stroh's Open will benefit the Leader Dogs School for the Blind in Rochester, Michigan.

Meetings set for new rules

Eighteen football and thirteen girls basketball rules meetings will be held for coaches, officials and interested people during the dates of August 14 to Sept. 5.

At each meeting, "Pertinent Michigan High School Athletic Association Matters", a 1978 Rules Changes and "Points and Emphasis" will be discussed by a representative of the MHSAA, Allen Bush, executive director of that group, announced this week.

Those attending the football rules meeting will see the movies, "Precision Football" and "Point of Contact". The movie, "Winning Ways", will be shown at the girls basketball rules meetings.

All meetings start at 7:30 p.m. Although meetings are scheduled for all parts of the state, those in this area include:

1978 Football Rules Meetings: Ypsilanti High School, Monday, Aug. 28; Ferndale High School, Tuesday, Aug. 29; Livonia Bentley High School, Wednesday, Aug. 30.

Girls Basketball Rules Meetings: East Lansing High School, Thursday, Aug. 17; Mt. Clemens High School, Wednesday, Aug. 30; and Southfield High School, Thursday, Aug. 31.

'Minnesota Fats' coming

Annual 8-Ball Bash helps Easter Seals

The Easter Seal Societies of Michigan have the pleasure of announcing the coming of the legendary "fatman" and friends at the culminating event of the second annual 8 Ball Bash.

Minnesota fats will be the major domo of the tournament and with him will be 21 of the world's most famous pool players. Jimmy Rempe, Larry Hubbard, St. Louie Louis and Paul Gerni who recently returned from a European tour. With Paul will be the Swedish champion, Mats Noren.

Heir apparent to the "fats" mantle and well known in the metro-Detroit area, "Cornbread" Red will also be standing in during the four days of play.

The First Annual 8 Ball Bash was a pilot project for the Easter Seal Societies and was so successful that a check was presented to Jack Klugman by local Bob Mullen of Q Master in Berkeley on the National Easter Seal Telethon from Hollywood. The check was a donation from the Metro-Detroit Pool Players.

A series of qualifying tournaments are held in Michigan Taverns, Pool rooms, fraternal and private clubs, homes and any location that houses a pool table. A sanction fee is all that is necessary to hold a tournament.

The schedule is as follows: $10 for up to a four week tournament; $14 for up to a six week tournament; $18 for up to an eight week tournament.

Each player pays an entrance fee of $3 to the sanctioned location and $1 of this is returned to the Easter Seal Society. The $2 balance is used for the purchase of a prize or trophy for the winner of the weekly tournament.

Each local tournament will have a winner and each winner receives a winners I.D. card inviting him to play in the 8 Ball Bash at Roma's of Bloomfield on Telegraph Road in Bloomfield Hills.

The dates of the culminating event are November 1, 2, 3 and 4, 1978.

Each winner will receive a memento of the occasion and there are cash and prizes for the top shooters both amateur and professional.

All proceeds go to the Easter Seal Societies for Crippled Children and Adults. Close to one hundred professional pool shooters and celebrities will be in attendance to play the public for some additional donations.

Anyone wishing information on how to hold their own tournament or the locations of sanctioned pool tables are asked to phone Joyce Thomas at the Oakland County Easter Seal Society at 313-338-9626.

DRC offers phone results

The Detroit Race Course has introduced two new telephone features for thoroughbred fans.

Fans can dial for each day's scratches and other late information by calling 261-9110 between 9 a.m. and post time (2 p.m. on Saturdays and holidays and 3:20 p.m. on week-days).

Then, by calling the same number — 261-9110 — from 7:15 p.m. each evening to 8 a.m. the following morning, fans can dial in for complete racing results — the win, place and show on each race, plus the payoffs on the various perfectas and trifectas and the daily double.

Circle Saturday, Sept. 16.

That's the date for the running of the 30th edition of the Michigan Mile, Michigan's premier horse race, at the Detroit Race Course.

The "Mile" again will carry a purse of $100,000 and will be run off over a distance of one mile and an eighth.

My Juliet became only the second filly in the long history of the "Mile" when she dashed to victory last September.

It's easy to arrange for special group parties and an afternoon at the races at the Detroit Race Course.

Details and reservations can be obtained by calling Ms. Sandra Walker at 421-7170.

Special prices, which include a buffet lunch, are featured for groups.

T-ball champs

The Orioles reign as the undefeated T-ball champions of the YMCA Wayne-Westland north division this season. Pictured with Coach Brent Rosch are Vernon Suquormey, Eric Bloch, Tommy Snyder, David Cupp, Matt Tabone, Craig Lescoe, Michael McNisa, Robbie Evans, Brent Brosch, Danny Sullivan, Nicole Stedila, Tanya Dorton and Brian Heyza. Not pictured is Michael Palmer.

Skating school planned

The City of Wayne Department of Parks and Recreation is accepting registration for the Steve Gulyas Power Skating School to be held Aug. 28 thru Sept. 1.

There will be three class divisions of five hours each for ages 7 and up.

Registration fees are: $15 for City of Wayne Residents and Wayne Youth Hockey Association members; $20 for Non-residents and non-members. Registration deadline is Aug. 25.

For further information call the Wayne Community Center at 721-7400.

Stroh's Open offers parking

Parking for approximately 5,000 cars expected for the August 16-20 Lady Stroh's Open at the Dearborn Country Club will be provided by the Ford Motor Company. The site, located on Mercury Drive near the intersection of Ford Road, will be serviced by a fleet of 40 shuttle buses to ferry golf fans to the country club, a distance of three miles.

Paid parking receipts will be required for shuttle bus passengers boarding at the parking area.

Tickets for the Lady Stroh's Open will be sold at the Ford parking facility and at the gate at the Dearborn Country Club. Advance tickets, of course, are also still available.

Tickets for the Lady Stroh's Open may be purchased through the Dearborn Country Club.

Clubhouse privileges, entitling a spectator entry to a reserved eating area are $2.50 per day.

Advance season tickets offer considerable savings. They are: $25 for entry, $10 for parking, and $10 for club privileges. This total of $45 represents a discount of $23 compared to individually purchased tickets.

Additional ticket information may be obtained by calling the Lady Stroh's Open Tournament office at (313) 561-5050.
